RAILROAD BILL.

The Diamond Savings Bank.

BILL VETOED.

Companies Incorporated.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HOUSE.

HARRISBURG, March 13th, 1871.

The Senate was not in session,

Mr. SCHNATTERLY reported a bill incorporating the PENNA. AND WEST VIRGINIA R. R.

Company from Greensburg, via Uniontown to West Virginia.

He Moved a suspesion of the rules and the bill passed.

The Governor sent in a communication vetoing the bill incorporating the of Pittsburgh because no legal newspaper notice of application for a charter had been given. There was no limitation of charter as to time, and no power to revoke or annul the charter was reserved to the Legislature.

The following

SENATE BILLS PASSED:

Incorporating the Revolving Mould Plow Company of Pittsburgh.

Supplement for the Nations Savings Bank of Pittsburgh.

Incorporating the Braddock's Field Gas Company.

Incorporating the Valley Petroleum Company.

MISCELLANEOUS BILLS.

The following House bills were passed:

Extending the Pittsburgh vehicle license act to Allentown, Allegheny county.

Authorizing the increase of tax in St. Clair borough.

Mr. WHITE objected the bill repealing the act prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in Blairsville and Buwel township, Indiana county, or within two miles thereof.

PHILADELPHIA COMMISSION.

The Speaker to-night appointed five additional members of the corporation Committee, all opposed to the Philadelphia Commission Bills; this is supposed to be the definite action of the Republican party to kill those bills.

Republican Caucus Matters—Removal of Mr. Sumner Discussed—Grant's Renomination—The New Loan—Important to Bankers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 11, 1871.

CAUCUS MATTERS.

There was no meeting of the Republican Senatorial caucus this morning, and it is understood that there will be none before tomorrow, when the committees appointed to frame a bill for the protection of life and property in the South will report. A joint caucus of the Republican Committee of the two Houses held a meeting of two hour's duration this morning to mature an anti-Ku Klux bill, but came to no conclusion. They will have another meeting to-night.

INTEREST ON PACIFIC R. R. BONDS.

There is official authority for stating that the report that the Secretary of the Treasury intends to push the Pacific Railroad Company for payment of the interest on the money due the government, and appeal to the Courts to enforce the payment, is entirely false. Secretary Boutwell disclaims any such intention.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE NEW LOAN.

The Merchants' Bank at Boston to-day subscribed $500,000 to the new loan. In response to an inquiry whether the bank may substitute their six per cent. for new five per cent. bonds without risk of hereafter being required to put in for a portion thereof at four and four and a half per cent., it is stated by the Secretary that such action on the part of banks, so far as he was concerned, will not render them liable to have any change made in the manner of subscriptions, but that they should remain undisturbed until the end of the ten years required for maturing the new bonds.

AN OFFICIAL DENIAL.

Secretary Fish has written a letter to the Evening Post, in which he says: "The entire statement of your correspondent, so far as it relates to any conversation, expression, discussion or allusion by Sir Edward Thornton to me or by me to or with him, or with the British Commissioners, or any or either of them on the subject of Mr. Sumner's position on the Committee on Foreign Relations, or with respect to any organization or constitution of that or any other committee in the Senate, is from beginning to end without the slightest foundation of truth.

COPPER COIN.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular concerning redemption of copper and other token coins. All parties holding such coins and desiring redemption, will forward the same to the mint of the United States at Philadelphia, in sums of not less than $20, advising the director of the mint by mail of the amount and kind of coin forwarded, and upon what Assistant Treasurer the check shall be drawn in payment thereof, which checks may be drawn upon Assistant Treasurer in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

THE REMOVAL OF MR. SUMNER

from the Chairmanship of the Committee on Foreign Relations continues the exciting topic of conversation in all political circles, and its probable effect upon the future of the Republican party, and the re-nomination of President Grant is freely discussed. All the Republicans, except a few of Mr. Sumner's personal enemies in the Senate, agree that the occurrence is very damaging to the party, and it may prove disastrous. In short, that it was a

GROSS POLITICAL BLUNDER.

The Democrats are highly elated about the affair. They say the re-nomination of President Grant is inevitable, because there is no man of sufficient strength to oppose him, but that his defeat will follow as a necessary result of the dissensions occasioned among the Republicans.

Many leading Republicans, on the other hand, assert that is now out of the question, and that it is necessary to begin to look about for a more available candidate, if the party is to be saved from defeat. They argue that the entire body of New Republicans will be hostile to him on account of Mr. Sumner's removal, and that it has alienated also all the original anti-slavery men throughout the country, who have always formed an active working element of the Republican party.

TAKING TIME BY THE FORELOCK.

There is already much canvassing relative to the merits and popularity of many prominent public men, with a view to their possible candidacy for the Republican nomination. Among others, the names of Colfax, Blaine, Sumner, Logan, Schenck and Cox are chiefly mentioned.

Rector of St. James' Church—Steamboat Company Fight—Death from Laudanum.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—Rev. Charles M. Fox, D. D., late Rector of St. Paul's Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., has received a call to the rectorship of St. James' Church in this city, and has accepted. He will commence his labors here on the first Sunday in April.

A special from Quincy says: The Northern Line and Northwestern Union Packet Companies, plying between St. Louis and St. Paul, which worked harmoniously together last season, have failed to effect any compromise this season, and the probabilities are that a lively fight will ensue. Both companies have a large number of fine passenger steamers.

Ed. Cleland, engaged in the ticket office of the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western Railroad at Peoria, swallowed an ounce of laudanum last night and died at four o'clock this morning. It is a mooted question whether the young man took the medicine as an opiate or with the intent of committing suicide.

CINCINNATI.

Burglar Sentenced—Excitement among the Whisky Dealers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, March 13.—Thos. Moor alias English Tom, indicted for breaking into the office of the Collector of the Third Ohio Revenue District, and taking therefrom revenue stamps, pleaded guilty before the United States Court to-day, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for eighteen months.

Some commotion has been produced among liquor dealers here by private advices from New Orleans that Indiana whisky was being sold in that city at seventy-five cents per gallon, which is about seven and one-half cents below the government charges, insurance, freight and commissions, without taking into account the cost of production.

The Dayton Short Line Railroad has contracted for grounds for a freight depot and other buildings in the vicinity of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad depot, conditioned upon the building of the road.

BILLS AND PETITIONS

heretofore introduced were taken from the table and referred to the newly organized committees.

Upon reference of the

to the Committee on Foreign Relations, Mr. SUMNER called the attention of the new Chairman of that Committee (Mr. Cameron) to the fact that the bill had repeatedly passed both Houses, but had always failed to become a law, once having been vetoed by the President.

After the introduction of various bills, most of them relating to internal improvements, the bill regulating the came up, and by unanimous consent Mr. Fenton was awarded the floor to address the Senate upon the bill. The Senator's speech in support of the bill, advocated an entire reform in the method of collecting the revenue, and in the safeguards to be thrown around it. Advocating the appointment of honest public stewards, and giving the responsibility of important official positions rather to known men of reliable character than to those whom rich offices were frequently given as a reward for political service. He considered that the old maxium "To the victors belong the spoil" was no longer applicaple. The bill was referred to the Committee on Finance.

The preamble to the resolution refers to the action of the Democratic members of the Senate of Indiana.

Mr. COX asked for a division of the question, so as to have a distinctive vote on that part of the resolution declaring the amendments valid, which he thought to be correct and accepted the situation.

The Speaker said that under the suspension of rules the resolution could not be divided. The question was taken and decided in the negative. Yeas 110, nays 75. Two-thirds not voting therefor. The House at 5 o'clock adjourned.

A reward is offered for their capture.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

REPORT OF THE ENGINEERS.

THE VARIOUS SITES.

SCIENTIFIC SURVEYS.

RECOMMENDATIONS, ETC., ETC.

The following very elaborate and interesting report of the corps of Civil Engineers attached to the Board of Water Commissioners was presented by the chairman of the Water Committee. It was read and accepted. Here it is entire:

PITTSBURGH, February 24, 1871.

To Gen. J. K. Moorhead, Geo. A. Berry, Esq., and F. Slataper, Esq., C. E., Water Commissioners.

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the previous appointment and notification of the Water Committee, through their chairman, Henry Lloyd, Esq., we came to this city on the 8th of June last, and were instructed by the Board of Water Commissioners, organized on that day, "to proceed to examine all reports and surveys heretofore made and in possession of the Councils and City Engineer, the location of the grounds and sites for reservoirs in the vicinity, and make such surveys and instrumental explorations as he (the Chief Engineer) may deem necessary."

It was previously understood in the letter of the Chief Engineer to Mr. Slataper, who acted in behalf of the Water Committee, stating on what terms and conditions he would perform the duties of the office—which terms and conditions were accepted by the Committee—that Mr. Lane was to be Associate Engineer: hence the joint character of this report.

Immediately after receiving our instructions, and in company with some of the Commissioners, members of the Water Committee, and a few prominent citizens, we visited the most important points in and near the city, mentioned in previous proceedings relative to the new water supply. We also examined considerable portions of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers in the vicinity where it had been proposed to take the water.

One of the most important steps in a proceeding of this kind is to ascertain what information previously obtained is accessible and reliable. Besides the State, County and City Maps and railroad surveys, we found much in the office of the City Engineer to assist us.

The preliminary report of Col. J. Milnor Roberts, dated December 12th, 1868, together with the maps and profiles of survey made under his directions, forms by far the most important source of information placed in our hands, and renders unnecessary much labor and investigation of a general nature we might otherwise have thought it important to undertake. We have carefully considered the facts upon which Col. Roberts bases his opinion that it would be a useless expenditure of money to contract at present, gravitation works by which a supply could be obtained without pumping engines, from the Youghiogheny or the Kiskiminites, or from intermediate collecting reservoirs, and agree with him in that conclusion.

We have almost from the first been convinced that under existing circumstances the practical issue was not between pumping and gravitation works as modes of supply, but between the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers as sources of supply. Hence our labors have been almost exclusively directed to the development of such projects as would most efficiently and economically furnish the city with an abundance of water from either of these streams, endeavoring to investigate carefully everything that seemed to have an important bearing on the questions thus restricted.

One of the most important results of our surveys was the determination of the general elevation of the different parts of the city.

Although much information in this respect had been obtained by our predecessors, we found it necessary to add considerably to it. We have thus been enabled to determine quite satisfactorily to our own minds upon a judicious arrangement of different services, or heights above the river at which the water should be supplied.

These consist of a low service including all the business portions of the city; a middle service including the East Liberty valley, and an upper service including the highest portions of the city, and will be described more minutely below.

The present corporate limits of Pittsburgh cover an area of about twenty-one square miles, extending from the junction of the two rivers along the left bank of the Allegheny eight miles, and from the same point eight and one-fifth miles up the right bank of the Monongahela. The distance between the two rivers at the eastern limits of the city is four and a half miles. This whole area is extremely diversified, as will be readily understood from the results of our surveys:

The area of that portion situate below a plane one hundred and twenty feet above high water, is five and one sixth square miles: the area of that portion between the planes of one hundred and twenty-five feet and two hundred and fifty feet above high water, is eight and six tenths square miles; the area of that portion above the plane of two hundred and fifty feet above high water, is seven and six hundredths square miles. There are several points, or hills, within the city limits higher than four hundred feet above high water, and two above five hundred feet. Herron's hill five hundred and thirty feet, and Coleman's hill five hundred and forty feet.

There will be frequent reference to the terms high water and low water in this report; to define clearly what is meant by these terms, the following explanation is given: The base or datum line assumed for our levels, as zero, is low water in the Alleghany river at its junction with the Monongahela, indicated by the pier marks on the channel scale on the Saint Clair street suspension bridge. This datum line is that adapted for levels in the city of Allegheny and the city of Pittsburgh. Extreme high water mark is thirty-two feet above low water. In speaking of heights or levels in this report, the term low water signifies the datum as above explained, and by the expression high water, an elevation thirty-two feet above that plane is indicated. Our principal contour lines were run at the hights of one hundred and twenty two hundred and fifty-four hundred, and four hundred and seventy feet above high water. The heights on the plans and profiles accompanying this report are marked at the elevation above low water unless otherwise expressly stated.

To determine the location of the reservoirs and how many it would be best to build, and at what elevations, a survey of the whole area of the city has been so far completed as the time would permit. The elevations of all the streets now laid out, and all the roads now in use, have been taken or collected from notes in the office of the City Engineer, and contour lines have been run at elevations as above stated. These contour lines have been completed in all the city except the Twenty-second ward, and a small portion of the northern part of the Twenty-first ward. Enough information has been collected to enable us to decide intelligently upon the proper location of the reservoirs.

From the information thus obtained it has been determined that a plan of works which would afford facilities of water supply to the whole city should have three reservoirs, at different elevations, sufficiently high to afford the proper head in each district for extinguishment of fires, but not so high as to require entirely new distribution pipes and the renewal of the house plumbing in those parts already supplied with water. There are objections to an excessive head of water; where the supply is constant it leads to great and almost uncontrollable waste of water; there is besides the constant expense of pumping the water higher than necessary.

Any new reservoir for the water works of this city it is conceded must be located from three to six miles further from the densly populated portion of the city than the present reservoir. It would thus be free from the deleterious influences of the gases and vapors floating in the atmosphere of great cities, and would also be near the pumping works. For it has been assumed at the outset that the main design in building new water works, next after increasing the capacity of the present works, is to furnish the city pure water free from city drainage or the drainage from manufactories or refineries. To do this, whether the water be taken from the Allegheny or the Monongahela it will be necessary to locate the principal pumping works near the eastern boundary of the city. A reservoir located four or five miles from the point where the most of the water is used, must necessarily be twenty-five or thirty feet higher than if located directly in the midst of the district, in order to overcome the friction of the water in the pipe mains.

The elevation recommended for the low service reservoir is about two hundred feet above high water. A reservoir situated at this height will afford to the whole of that part of the city lower than one hundred and twenty feet above high water, comprising the whole of the business part of the city, a head of at least fifty feet at all times, and in the lower portions of the district a head of about one hundred and fifty feet, besides an allowance sufficient to overcome the friction in the pipe mains from the reservoir to the city. This elevation may seem too great when compared with that of the present low service reservoir, or with that of the reservoirs in some of our larger cities. There are but few large cities that afford any choice of sites for reservoirs; the highest is usually selected. A reservoir at the elevation proposed will afford about the same head of water in this city as is given by the present works in the neighboring city of Allegheny, or by the works in the borough of Birmingham. The flow line of the reservoir in Alleghany is one hundred and eighty-five feet above high water, that of the reservoir of the Birmingham water works is also one hundred and eighty feet high above high water. The data in reference to these reservoirs are stated to show that there will not be any great change in the present pipe system, if the height recommended, two hundred feet above high water is adopted for a low service reservoir.

Of the whole area of the city lying between the levels of one hundred and twenty, and two hundred and fifty feet above high water, be far the larger portion is situate at the height of about two hundred feet above high water. This is the general elevation of the East Liberty valley or plateau. A reservoir that would afford a head of about one hundred and thirty or forty in the greater part of this district is considered high enough, and accordingly the height fixed for the reservoir to supply this district is three hundred and thirty or forty feet above high water.

For the third or high level reservoir, a height of five hundred feet would answer very well. It should, however, be twenty-five or thirty feet higher, so as to command the most elevated portions of the city.

In our plans we propose to make every possible judicious use of the existing city water works. Of course the present pumping works, after the completion of the new, would be no longer needed, and we do not see how any important use could be made of the low reservoir near the High School. Some of the force mains might very advantageously be taken up and relaid elsewhere.

Having assumed the general heights of the different services, our next step, was to ascertain the best reservoir sites. On a surface so extensive and widely diversified as that of Pittsburgh, of course many reservoir sites exist, but owing to the necessary restrictions of height, capacity, cost and safety, the choice was narrowed down to a few. We have examined and estimated upon thirteen sufficiently for comparison, and have carefully developed and planned six. The necessary limits of this report will only permit a description of the more important ones.

Our attention was early called to Shades Run. This is a small brook running into the Allegheny river, one and one-fourth miles above Negley's Run. It drains a water shed of three hundred and seventy-five acres. This brook divides into two branches twelve hundred feet from the river; the distance from this point to the source of each is about one-half mile. The quantity of water flowing here in summer is very small. The sides of the run rise precipitously; the lowest point along the crest of the water shed toward East Liberty is four hundred and thirty feet above high water.

The fact that there is a deep pool in the river opposite this run, and within several miles above it only one manufactory (the Acid Works at Sandy Creek), the drainage from which would at all effect the purity of the water in the river, has induced the belief among many citizens of sound judgment that this would be the best location for the new water works. To understand thoroughly its adaptability to this purpose it has been carefully surveyed.

The following is the approximate estimate of the cost of building a low service reservoir in this run:

Cleaning and grubbing..............	$4,000 00
768,000 cubic yards of embankment at 42 cents	322,560 00
52,000 cubic yards of puddle at 75 cts	39,000 00
11,500 " " stone facing of dam at $1 50..........	17,250 00
Masonry in culvert, influent and effluent chambers, gates, screens, &c..........	30,000 00
	$412,810 00
Add for contingencies &c., 10 per cent..........	41,281 00
Total..............	$454,091 00

The great expense of building a reservoir here, and the risk in so very high an embankment of leakage, by the use of improper materials, or by unfaithful work, have led us to endeavor to find a location for a low service reservoir where the construction would be less expensive and which could be more readily connected with the pumping works for a high service reservoir.

Other reservoir sites above this were examined and estimated upon, but were not at suitable heights for the middle and high services.

The two plans we have worked out complete for comparison and estimates of cost are

1. The Allegheny river plan.
2. The Monongahela river plan.

1. The Allegheny river plan. In this plan it is proposed to locate the principal pumping works above Negley's Run and below Shade's Run, at some suitable point hereafter to be selected, there are two or three within a short distance of Negley's Run. The one selected on which to base our estimates of cost is situate eight hundred feet above the mouth of Negley's Run.

The water is to be taken from the river near Nine Mile Island and conducted through a brick conduit six feet interior diameter to the pump wall. It is here to be pumped into a reservoir located on the hill at the west of Negley's Run, called Brilliant Hill. The length of the force mains from the engine-house to this reservoir is twenty-three hundred and twenty-five feet; it is proposed to make the mains thirty-six inches internal diameter, and to lay two lines, one from each of the two pumping engines.

The pumping engines will be described farther on in the report.

The proposed location of the pumping works at Negley's run is six and one-half miles above the location of the pumping works of the present city water works.

The flow line of this reservoir is to be two hundred and thirty-eight feet above our datum line, or two hundred and six feet above high water, but as low water in the river here is twelve feet above the datum line, the extreme lift of the water at this pumping station will be two hundred and twenty-six feet.

There is ground here on which the reservoir can be built at a lower level if so desired. The site chosen is high enough to command the reservoir in Allegheny if it should ever be thought advisable to supply that city from these pumping works.

This Brilliant hill reservoir is to be built in two compartments and large enough to hold about fifty million gallons. The site surveyed and on which the present estimates are based will hold forty-four million gallons with a depth of twenty feet of water. The area of the water surface is eight acres.

From this reservoir the water to supply the whole of the lower plane of the city, viz: all that part below one hundred and twenty feet above high water would flow through a cast iron pipe main, thirty-six inches interior diameter. This large supply main is to be laid in Butler street through Lawrenceville, and thence to pass into Liberty street at thirty-third street, and to continue in Liberty street to Twentieth street; from here the supply could be taken by the pipes now in use, or by new pipes of less diameter than thirty-six inches, and connecting with the existing mains.

From near the Sharpsburg bridge to Negley's Run, a distance of one and a half miles, Butler street is not graded. The cost of grading this street, or opening it, is not included in the estimate of the cost of the works. The most of the work on the street is light, and it is assumed that it will be paid for in the usual way. It is proposed to pass Haight's Run, the only point where the work is expensive, by building a culvert of ten feet span, and taking the main across this valley by laying it down the slope and over the culvert and up the slope on the other side. The expense of the short culvert required for this purpose, and of the necessary grading and embankment, is included in the estimate. When it may become necessary to grade this street across the run, the culvert can be lengthened at each end and the pipe mains raised to the grade of the street.

Provision has been made in the plan of the effluent chamber of the Brilliant Hill reservoir for laying a second supply main from this reservoir when it may become necessary on account of increased demand for water in the city.

For the supply of that portion of the city situate above the plane of one hundred and twenty feet above high water, and below two hundred and fifty, which we have called the middle level, it is proposed to pump the water from the low level reservoir at Brilliant Hill into a reservoir to be located on the property of Mr. Casper Negley and Mr. James McCully, on Highland avenue. The length of this pumping main will be about one thousand feet, and its internal diameter twenty-four inches. The flow line of the middle level reservoir is to be one hundred and thirty feet above the low service reservoir or three hundred and thirty-six feet above high water. The reservoir is to be built in two compartments and to contain when full at twenty feet depth of water one hundred and four million gallons. The area of the water surface is seventeen and two-thirds acres.

The distribution main from this reservoir is to be laid in Highland avenue as far as to Penn avenue (where it will be connected with the main at present being laid in this avenue) and in Penn avenue to Ellsworth avenue, thence to continue in Ellsworth avenue to Neville street. The main in Highland avenue from the reservoir to Penn avenue will be thirty inches interior diameter, in Penn avenue to Ellsworth avenue twenty-four inches diameter, and in Ellsworth avenue from Penn to Neville street twenty inches diameter.

At the junction of Ellsworth avenue and Neville street a water pressure engine is to be located to pump the water into a high service reservoir to be located on Herren Hill. The flow line of this reservoir is to be five hundred and thirty feet above high water; this reservoir is to be built with but one compartment and to contain, at the depth of twenty-five feet, ten million gallons. The area of its water surface is two acres. The pumping main from this high service district will be forty-nine hundred feet long and twelve inches interior diameter. It is proposed to connect the reservoir with the distributing pipes now laid and hereafter to be laid in this elevated portion of the city by a distribution main twelve inches in diameter to be laid on Madison avenue and Wylie avenue.

The waste water from the pumping engine located at the junction of Neville street and Ellsworth avenue is to be conducted by a twelve inch main laid in Boundary street to Second avenue near Four Mile Run, and there connected with the pipe now laid on that avenue.

The difference in the level between the low service and the middle service (one hundred and thirty feet) will be sufficient to overcome the friction in the mains from Hiland avenue reservoir to the proposed water pressure engine at Neville street, (the length of these mains is three and one-third miles), and furnish a pressure of forty pounds per square inch to pump the water into the reservoir on Herron Hill.

The quantity of water at present required on this high level district has been assumed to be one half million gallons per dry. There are no manufactories on this level and the consumption of water there will be very much less per inhabitant than in the district where these are located. It is assumed that one million gallons per day will be sufficient for a population of at least ten thousand, affording to each inhabitant fifty gallons per day. This probably is as large a population as will be required to be supplied from this reservoir in many years.

For supplying the high level on Wilkins avenue, and that district in the Twenty-second ward situate above the plane of two hundred and fifty feet above high water, and lying directly south of East Liberty valley, (this includes the heights where the Pennsylvania Female College is located), the water can be conveyed directly from this high service pumping engine at Neville street in a cast-iron pipe of six or eight inches interior diameter.

The chief advantage in the use of the water pressure engine will be a saving in the expense of attendance; it does not, like steam pumping engines, require an engineer or fireman. There is not claimed for it in this case any saving in power, and in fact no other saving than what results from doing all the pumping by steam, at two points very near each other, rather than at those points widely apart.

The distribution main in Penn avenue twenty inches diameter now being laid, and which it is understood the Water Committee propose to lay the whole length of this avenue to the east line of the city, will serve the double purpose of a distribution main and a connecting main between the middle level district and the low service district. The large quantity of water, over one hundred million gallons, which the middle level reservoir will contain, will thus always be at command on the low service distribution in case of any temporary stoppage or disabling of the pumping machinery at the main pumping station.

The method of constructing the reservoirs is about the same for all, a general description will therefore be sufficient. The embankments enclosing the reservoirs are to be built of earth deposited in layers of less than one foot in thickness and thoroughly compacted. These embankments are to be carried up to the height of twenty-four feet above the bottom of the reservoir, their width at top is to be twenty feet and the slopes or inclination of their sides to be one and one-half horizontal to one vertical on the inside of the reservoir, and one and three-fourths to one on the outside. The whole of the bottom of the reservoir and the inner slopes to be lined with clay puddle. This puddle is to be covered with concrete five inches thick. The inner slopes of the reservoir are to be paved with a stone paving one foot thick, laid in mortar. The water is to be conducted to the reservoir and drawn from it through chambers of masonry fitted with screens and valves admitting the supplying of the city from one division while the water is pumped into the other.

The proposed forms of the reservoirs, and the method recommended for their construction, are shown on the drawings accompanying this report. The above general description applies to all the reservoirs, except that the reservoir on Herron Hill is to be built with but one compartment, and in this case the chambers of masonry are dispensed with, and the pipes are conducted through the banks.

The question may be asked why a larger reservoir than the one proposed is not recommended to be built on Herron Hill? The answer to this query is that the area of the top of the hill is small, and the ground slopes away so rapidly on all sides that the construction of a reservoir larger than this would be very expensive, as will be seen by an examination of the plan or the proposed site of the reservoir. Besides this, the quantity of water that will be used daily from this reservoir is small when compared with the whole quantity used in the city. The reservoir as proposed will certainly contain more than a week's supply for the high-level district, which is considered sufficient for all purposes.

The estimated cost of the works by this plan is, exclusive of lands and land damages, ($2,294,478,) two million two hundred ninety-four thousand four hundred and seventy-eight dollars.

2. The Monongahela Plan.

The water is to be taken from Pool No. 2, of the Monongahela river and conducted through a brick conduit six feet internal diameter and seven and nine tenths miles long to the pumping works which are to be located on Second avenue just above Four mile run. This location is very nearly opposite the pumping works of the Birmingham water works. The water is to be pumped through a force main twenty-three hundred feet long into a reservoir to be located on the hill near J. Arthur's residence. The site for this reservoir is on Arthur and Craft's Hill, the west side of Four mile run at the junction of Bouquet and Frazier streets. It is proposed to build it in two compartments, the whole to contain at a depth of twenty feet ninety-two million gallons. The area of the water surface is fifteen and two-thirds acres. The flow line is to be two hundred and seven feet above high water.

The distribution main from this reservoir is to be thirty-six inches interior diameter, and to be laid in Second avenue, as far as to Grant street, in Grant to Liberty, and in Liberty street as far as to Twentieth street. It will here be connected with the twenty inch main to be laid from Twentieth to Thirtieth streets; it will also be connected at other points, with the pipes in the streets through which it is laid.

The district to be supplied with this main, called the low service district, is that part of the city situate below the height of one hundred and twenty feet above high water.

As the water surface of this Arthur and Craft's Hill reservoir is only one foot higher than that of the Brilliant Hill reservoir, the head of water furnished in the lower or business portion of the city will be almost precisely the same from either reservoir.

For the supply of the middle level district, it is proposed to pump the water from the Arthur and Craft's Hill reservoirs into a stand pipe, to be located on the north side of this reservoir. The water will flow from it through a main thirty inches in diameter, to be laid in Bouquet and Atwood streets to Fifth avenue, where it would connect with the main at present laid in this avenue. This thirty-inch main is to be laid in Fifth avenue, as far as to Neville street; from the junction of Neville street and Fifth avenue there is to be a twenty-inch main continued through Fifth avenue to Wilkins, in Wilkins to Shady lane, in Shady lane to Edgerton avenue, and in Edgerton avenue to the reservoir to be located on Wilkins' hill. The flow line of this reservoir will be three hundred and seventy-nine and one-half feet above high water, and its capacity sixty-four million gallons. The area of its water surface will be eleven and one-sixth acres. This reservoir will be connected with the main now being laid in Penn avenue by a thirty-inch distributor main to be laid in Edgerton and Park avenue to Penn avenue.

For the supply of the high level district the water will pass from the main in Fifth avenue through a twenty-inch main to be laid in Neville street to the engine, to be located at the junction of Ellsworth avenue and Neville street. From this point the plan for the supply of the high level district is precisely the same as that recommended for the first-mentioned or Allegheny river plan, except that the twelve-inch main which takes the water used to drive the water pressure engine, into the low level distribution district in this plan be located northerly through Neville street and down the valley of Liberty run to Liberty street. The length of the length of the main is the same as the length through Boundary street to Second avenue in the other plan. A repetition of the description of this high service plan is unnecessary.

The general description of the construction of the reservoirs given in the other plan, applies to this also.

The total estimated cost of the works, if built on the plan here described, will be, exclusive of lands and water rights, ($2,748,973) two million, seven hundred and forty-eight thousand, nine hundred and seventy-three dollars. If the building of the conduit is dispensed with and the water taken from Pool No. 1, directly in the rear of the engine house, the cost will be ($2,032,673) two million, thirty-two thousand six hundred and seventy-three dollars.

The detailed estimates of the cost of both Plans are given in the Appendix to this Report.

In making the surveys and calculations for the works on the Monongahela plan, the reservoir for the supply of the high service district was first located on Ewart's Hill, south of Centre avenue and the pumping main was designed to be laid in Bouquet and Atwood steets to Fifth avenue and thence directly to the reservoir located between Bayard street and Centre avenue. There is an excellent site here for a reservoir. A reservoir could be built here at a very reasonable expense to hold forty-two million gallons. The area of its water surface would be seven and five-eighths acres. If the reservoir for the supply of the middle level district were located here, the stand pipe at the Arthur and Crafts hill reservoirs could be dispensed with, and the water pumped directly through the force main sixty-eight hundred feet in length into this reservoir. The water surface would be four hundred and fifty-six feet above high water. The general level of the middle service district is about two hundred feet above high water. With a reservoir located at the height here proposed there would be afforded a head of about two hundred and fifty feet over this whole district, which is too great and would involve a needless expense for pumping the water. It was this that led us to look for a reservoir on a lower level to supply this district. With a reservoir located at a lower level, though the first cost is somewhat increased, the annual expense for pumping will be very much less and there will be a large annual saving.

The cost of the construction of the works by this plan could be very greatly diminished as is shown by the estimates, by taking the water for the present from Pool No. 1 direct in the rear of the location of the engine house above Four Mile Run.

Soundings were taken in this pool on September 17th, 1870, from Four Mile Run up to Patterson's Run, above City Farm.

A detailed report of these soundings has been made to you.

The general depth of water in the main channel varied from ten to about twenty-four feet. Soundings were taken entirely across the river or pool at this proposed location of the pumping works, on November 17th, 1870. The depth within fifty feet of the right bank was fifteen feet; from this point the depth gradually increases to seventeen feet in the centre of the pool, and thence decreases to the depth of ten feet at one hundred and twenty feet from the left bank of the river.

If the pumping works were located here it would be necessary to construct the pump well and influent conduit from the river low enough to take the water at the level, it would be when this pool might be drawn off for making repairs to the locks or dam No. 1 of the Navigation Co. The lift of this lock is eight feet.

By taking the water directly from this Pool No. 1, and omitting the building of the Wilkins' Hill reservoir, and the laying of the principal mains that would be required to connect with this reservoir when built, and making use of the present upper reservoir of the old water works (capacity two and one-fourth million gallons,) for a reservoir on the middle level, the cost of the works on this plan would be, exclusive of land and water rights ($1,763,917) one million seven hundred and sixty-three thousand nine hundred and seventeen dollars.

We believe that the selection of reservoir sites made for both the Monongahela and the Allegheny projects meet all the requirements of capacity, height and safety. In this last respect we had some fears with regard to the low service reservoir at the mouth of Negley's Run, as there are indications of a tendency to slide on the slope of the bluff immediately below the site, but on boring it was found that the bottom of the reservoir would be in rock, which in some spots crops out on the brow of the hill.

The straight lines and angles proposed for the outlines of most of the reservoirs on our plans could be changed to varying lines and curves without material, if any, increase of cost, should it be desired as a matter of taste. This would be particularly appropriate if the city should determine to ornament to any extent the grounds around the reservoir.

We have not made any plans or estimates of the cost of a dam across the Allegheny river, and of other works connected therewith, to pump up the supply for the city by water power, because we are satisfied the city has no authority at present to construct a dam, and do not consider it certain such authority could be obtained. If such a dam and connecting works were built, it would still be necessary to erect steam pumping works, to to be prepared against occasional stoppages of the water wheels by high water and possible accidents. If after a few years of trial with the steam pumping works it should be found that the increased demand for water was great and if all legislative objections to the dam could be removed there would be scarcely anything to throw away or abandon in the reservoirs or pumping works on the Allegheny; for they would all be needed, the reservoirs constantly and the engines occasionally.

A few years delay in this matter would be attended with decided advantages by giving not only more time for consideration, but would probably furnish experience of importance in the arrangement of such works, especially in connection with other public interests.

If the Ohio river is to be improved by slack water navigation, it is not impossible that the Allegheny will be too. In that case any dam the city would build simply with reference to water power might lose much of its value by back water from a dam below.

Whenever the daily consumption shall equal thirty or even twenty million gallons the economic advantages of pumping by water would undoubtedly be very great, as clearly shown by Col. Roberts.

In estimating the cost of such works as we would recommend for present use, we have provided for main pipes sufficiently large for a daily consumption of twenty-four million gallons, and two engines for the low service each capable of raising twelve million gallons daily. With such engines, and reservoirs as large as are proposed, there would be no difficulty in keeping up an average supply of fifteen million gallons daily, for in case of repairs being needed, the reservoirs and one engine would keep up that supply from thirty to fifty days. The engine houses are intended to be large enough to admit a third engine when the reliable pumping capacity could be increased at once to twenty-four million gallons, or upwards as might be deemed best. We are aware that a forcible objection can be made to the proposed arrangement of separate engines and buildings for the lower and middle service, while a single building enclosing the necessary machinery, would be cheaper at first to construct and afterwards operate under all ordinary circumstances. It may be that, upon further investigation this arrangement will be considered the best; but the greater apparent safety of the other has led us to adopt it for the purposes of this report.

The kind of engine recommended is what is called the double cylinder with beam and fly-wheel. It is more expensive in first cost than the kinds commonly used, but the results obtained by it in England, and the greatly increased favor which double cylinder engines have received during the last few years for other purposes in this country, have led us to select it for the estimate. We must confess a little perplexity in the matter however. If civil and mechanical engineers generally agreed on this question, it would be easier to convince the public of the wisdom of choosing a particular form, but in the midst of the great diversity that exists, there will necessarily be doubt with regard to the propriety of our choice. While we have our own preference as above expressed, all the light we have been able to get on the subject, satisfies us that far less depends upon the kind of engine than upon the skill with which the different parts are arranged and constructed, the perfection of the boilers and proper management in working the whole machine when in use.

For the preparation of the engine plans we are indebted to G. M. Copeland, Esq., who was the superintending mechanical engineer of the pumping engines recently built by the Knapp Fort Pitt Foundry Co. of this city for the new water works of St. Louis. Mr. Copeland's general description of the engine accompanies this report.

In seeking a supply of water for a city of the present and prospective population and industry of Pittsburgh, two absolute requisites must be kept in mind, one is purity, and the other abundance. There should be no doubt with regard to either. Prof. Wuth's analysis, herewith presented, shows that nothing could be desired in respect to purity, except the removal of sedimentary matter, which would nearly, if not quite, all subside in the large reservoirs. The Professor, it will be seen, makes a very slight theoretical difference in favor of the Allegheny, which is also, as is well known, a clearer water than that of the Monongahela. According to analysis, no important cities in this country are supplied with as good water as the Pittsburgh streams furnish, except Brooklyn and Boston, and none in Europe that we know of except Glasgow.

With regard to abundance, there can be no doubt that for present purposes, and the probable wants of the near future, either stream would furnish an ample supply. The Allegheny would undoubtedly be sufficient for all time to come, but according to measurements taken by officers of the Monongahela Slackwater Navigation Company, that stream falls so low in very dry seasons as not to discharge much if any over twenty million gallons a day. But even this would be claimed at such times by the company for lockage purposes. It would be necessary, in order to avoid litigation, to construct compensating reservoirs to supply the locks. Where these reservoirs should be located, and what would be their probable cost, we have not thought it necessary to ascertain. If it should be considered important to determine this question accurately, we think it would require at least a year longer.

We have estimated for conduits from the proposed pumping works on both rivers to such points above as are supposed to be beyond the reach of pollution from sewage for a long time to come. We do not believe, however, that it would be necessary for several, and perhaps many years to build either. On the Allegheny, in case no satisfactory arrangement by purchase or otherwise with owners of existing works above Negley's Run could be made, it would probably be advisable to build an intercepting sewer at an estimated expense of about thirty thousand dollars, but of the immediate necessity of this we are not certain. It is a question that may be safely left for future determination, for in any event a remedy will be at hand.

Besides the possibility of contamination of the water of either river from the drainage of towns that may spring up along their banks, and which may be provided against in one of the ways already suggested, there will naturally arise the inquiry, What is to be done with oil that may be wasted into the Allegheny above points over which the Legislature has given the city no control, that is, more than five miles above the point at which the water may be taken, if that river should be adopted as the source of supply?

In the first place, it may be answered that the water to be used by the city should be taken from a deep pool, so far below the surface as not to be affected by floating substances. In the next place, it is not probable that the wasteful modes of handling and refining oil, which have hitherto prevailed, will long be practiced in the future.

The least daily flow ever noticed in this river, as stated by Col. Roberts, is eight hundred and sixty-four million gallons. It would seem impossible for such a stream to be seriously affected above the immediate influences of the city, by any manufactories or other establishments to be erected along its banks. They could at least be controlled by legislative action sufficient to maintain the purity of the stream, as is already done to a considerable extent in Great Britain.

It will be seen by what has been thus far presented that of the two main schemes which have occupied our attention, the Monongahela would probably cost about four hundred and fifty-four thousand dollars more than the Allegheny if the proposed conduits above the pumping works should be built. But if the conduits should not be built, then the probable cost of the Monongahela plan would be $6,825 less than the Allegheny. This difference might at first be increased $268,756 by omitting for a few years the construction of the Wilkin's Reservoir and the laying of the distributing main from it, but ultimately this or its equivalent would have to be built to make the reservoir capacity of the Monongahela plan as great as that of the Allegheny, and in the meanwhile the Monongahela works would be less efficient and safe in case of serious accident to the pumping machinery, or a leak requiring repairs in the low service reservoir. The site of the low service reservoir on the Monongohela is remarkably fine, and the capacity of the reservoir itself is more than double that of the Allegheny low service. But the Allegheny middle service reservoir is also exceedingly well situated and larger than the Monongahela low service, and would of course supply a greater extent of the city in case of serious accident to the works below.

The advantage of the Monongahela plan over the Allegheny consists in a less probable cost of from $6,825, to $275,581 in the first construction of the works.

The advantages of the Allegheny plan over the Monongahela, are the smallest probable cost in the future if conduits should have to be constructed to avoid impurities from drainage; the avoidance of possible litigation with the Monongahela Slackwater Navigation Company; or the construction of compensating reservoirs: the possibility of greatly reducing the annual expense of pumping, by the use of water power, should the supply demanded be largely increased; and the greater clearness of the water, which, though of no practical use for many purposes, is certainly more grateful to the eye.

In view of the above statements, we feel it to be our duty to recommend the Allegheny river as the source of supply. We believe that the general plan we have worked out would be on the whole as judicious as any other that could be selected. In justice to ourselves, however, we would state that owing to the general expectation that as early a report as possible should be made, on the one hand, and our desire to avoid all useless expenditures on the other, we have not worked out many details as thoroughly as we otherwise would. But this can easily be done by those to whom the construction of those important works may hereafter be confided.

We have been faithfully assisted in our labors by Messrs. Chas. MacRitchie, John Nickol, C. A. Cooper and G. L. Miller; and our thanks are due for the constant and cheerful manner in which Messrs. H. C. Moore, City Engineer, and W. H. Kennedy, Engineer in charge of City Surveys, have communicated all desired information in their offices.

Respectfully submitted.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NEW LOAN OF THE UNITED STATES.—IMPORTANT CIRCULAR.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, February 28th, 1871.

Public notice is hereby given that books will be opened on the sixth day of March next, in this country and in Europe, for subscriptions to the National Loan, under the Act approved July 14, 1870, entitled "An Act to authorize the Refunding of the National Debt," and the Act in amendment thereof, approved January 20, 1871.

The proposed loan comprises three classes of Bonds, namely:

First—Bonds to the amount of five hundred millions of dollars, payable in coin, at the pleasure of the United States, after ten years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest, payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of five per cent. per annum.

Second—Bonds to the amount of three hundred millions of dollars, payable in coin, at the pleasure of the United States, after fifteen years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest, payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of four and a half per cent. per annum.

Third—Bonds to the amount of seven hundred millions of dollars, payable in coin, at the pleasure of the United States, after thirty years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest, payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

Subscriptions to the loan will have preference in the following order, namely:

First—Subscriptions that may be first made for five per cent. bonds to the amount of two hundred millions of dollars; of which there will be reserved for twenty days, one half for subscribers in this country and one-half for subscribers in foreign countries.

Second—Subscriptions for equal amounts of each class of bonds.

Third—Subscriptions for equal amounts of bonds bearing interest at the rate of four and a half per cent. and of bonds bearing interest at the rate of five per cent.

Fourth—Subscriptions for any five per cent. bonds that may not be subscribed for in the preceding classes.

When a subscription is made the subscriber will be required to deposit two per cent. of the amount thereof, in coin or currency of the United States, or in bonds of the class to be exchanged, to be accounted for by the Government when the bonds are delivered; and payment may be made either in coin or in bonds of the United States known as FIVE-TWENTY BONDS, at their par value.

The coin received in payment will be applied to the redemption of five-twenty bonds, and the debt of the United States will not be increased by this loan.

The bonds will be registered or issued with coupons, as may be desired by subscribers. Registered bonds will be issued of the denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000; and coupon bonds of each denomination except the last two. The interest will be payable in the United States, at the office of the Treasurer, any Assistant Treasurer, or Designated Depositary of the Government, quarterly, on the first days of February, May, August, and November in each year.

The bonds of the several classes aforesaid, and the interest thereon, are exempt from the payment of all taxes or dues of the United States, as well as from taxation in any form by or under State, municipal or local authority.

After maturity, the bonds last issued will be first redeemed, by classes and numbers, as may be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The bonds will be issued at the United States Treasury, but the agents for the negotiation of the loan in Europe are authorized to make arrangements with subscribers for the transmission of bonds to the agents through whom subscriptions may be received.

Subscribers in the United States will receive the new bonds of the agents with whom the subscriptions are made.

In the United States the National Banks are authorized to receive subscriptions, and subscriptions may also be made at the office of the Treasurer of the United States, or of any Assistant Treasurer or the designated depositaries at Buffalo, N. Y.; Chicago, Ill.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Louisville, Ky.; Mobile, Ala., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

BONDS at Frankfort, 96¼.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 50.

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 111¼.

IT will be seen by our dispatches this morning that the House has stricken off the duty on tea, coffee, coal and salt.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT made in certain quarters that the Sumner imbroglio will permanently alienate Messrs. Schurz and Patterson from President Grant's administration, which will be "equivalent to withdrawing Missouri and New Hampshire from the column of States likely to vote for his re-election," is not by any means complimentary to the Republican party. If these gentlemen carry the States of Missouri and New Hampshire in their breeches pockets, it may with equal truth be said, President Grant carries the whole United States.

WE have received a special dispatch from Brainerd, Minnesota, which states that the North Pacific Railroad bridge across the Mississippi at that place was completed yesterday, and a passenger train containing the officers of the road passed over it. The track of the road is now completed one hundred and thirteen miles west of Lake Superior. The grading is nearly finished as far as Red River, one hundred and fifty miles farther west, and it is expected that the cars will be running to that place about September. A large force is employed, and the work is being pushed forward with great energy.

REFERRING to the fact that the Senatorial caucus did not see fit to appoint the Hon. Charles Sumner chairman of the Committee of the present session on Foreign Relations, the New York Times gives utterance to the following sensible language:

> "There can be no doubt that the removal of Mr. Sumner from the Committee on Foreign Affairs is a very unfortunate event—but Republican Senators, no less faithful, if less distinguished, than Mr. Sumner himself, have arrived at the conclusion that the step was absolutely necessary, and therefore it is nonsense to attempt to saddle the President with the whole or even the chief, responsibility for it. Mr. Sumner it has been positively stated, had refused to speak to the Secretary of State; but yesterday the statement was qualified, and it was alleged that Mr Sumner had not declined to hold official communications with Mr. Fish. An important part of the business of the country would be seriously embarrassed if the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations persisted in maintaining an attitude of irreconcilable hostility to the Secretary of State and the Administration. Mr. Sumner is not a man of partial likes or dislikes. He does one or the other with his whole heart. Other Senators, certainly, ought to be allowed some freedom of choice in making up their Committees, and to suppose that they have submitted to the imperious dictation of the President on the subject is to insult the Senators, and to take a very improbable view of the whole case.

This calm and common sense view of the subject will commend itself to all those who look upon it dispassionately.

A DENIAL.

It was telegraphed over the country yesterday that Sir Edward Thornton, the British Minister in Washington, made a request of the Administration, some six weeks ago, that a change should be made at the opening of the present Congress, in the Chairmanship of the Committee on Foreign Relations. It was further stated, that the Administration committed itself to effect the change. The design of this sensational telegram is apparent. The object of it was to show that the present Administration is willing to comply with the request, or yield to the dictation of England. We think there are few who will believe that President Grant could be guilty of any such servility. That he would readily comply with any request, based upon well established principles of international comity, we are willing to admit. But that he would obey the dictation of England, or any other power, in regard to the formation of committees, or the administration of the affairs of the nation, we will not believe. This matter, however, has been set at rest by a subsequent telegram, which states that the British Minister never expressed an opinion adverse to the appointment of Senator Sumner on the Committee of Foreign Relations by the Senate of the Forty Second Congress. Moreover, it is stated that no conversation has ever been had between Sir Edward Thornton, or any of the members of the British Commission, and Secretary Fish, in regard to the matter. No intimation has ever been given by any British Representative that a change in the composition of the Committee was desired. The whole thing was evidently a concoction of the ememies of the Administration, and had no foundation in fact.

THAT "REMOVAL."

Most of the newspapers throughout the country talk of the "removal" of Senator Sumner from the chairmanship of the Committee on Foreign Relations, and say it had its parallel in the removal of Mr. Douglas from the chairmanship of the Committee on Territories in December, 1858. We beg to remind our readers that Mr. Sumner has not been "removed" from the chairmanship of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Forty-second Congress, because he never was placed on it in that capacity. Every Congress appoints its own committees, and no member has a life tenure on any of them. The Senatorial caucus of the present Congress nominated Senator Cameron to the chairmanship of the Committee on Foreign Relations, a position which, under it, Mr. Sumner never held. To talk of his being "deposed" then is the greatest absurdity. We yield to none in our devotion to Senator Sumner as an able statesman, a true patriot and the successful champion of human rights. But from all we know we are strongly inclined to the belief that it would not have subserved the best interests of the Republic if the present Senate had given him the same position on the Committee on Foreign Relations which he held for a number of years. His own bosom, and most intimate friends—legislators from his own State—informed us within the past few weeks that he has become irritable, and is disposed to be imperious and dictatorial.

But there is no parallel between the non-appointment of Mr. Sumner as chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, and the "striking" of the name of the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas from the chairmanship of the Committee on Territories in 1858. At the time the name of Mr. Douglas was stricken from the Committee on Territories, the National Legislature was holding the second session of the Thirty-fifth Congress. All the committees had been appointed at the first session, and the Senate was fully organized. In the present case, however, no committees had been appointed, and the Senate in this respect was not fully organized. Mr. Sumner then was not deposed, nor removed. But the name of Mr. Douglas was ingloriously stricken from the Committee on Territories in the midst of the deliberations of the Thirty-fifth Congress. There is no parallel between the two cases, and Mr. Sumner has neither been insulted nor deposed. The Senatorial caucus saw fit not to nominate him to the position, and that is all. They had, no doubt, good reasons for their action, and we do not know that any one has a right to dictate to them what they should do in the premises.

CYCLOPES.

Although the one existed in fable, and the other exists in fact, there seems to be a strong resemblance in many points, between the Homeric and Virgilian Cyclopes, and the modern Ku Klux of the South. The Greek name of the Cyclopes was Ku Klops. This name was given them because they had only one eye, which was placed in the center of the forehead. They are described by the princes of Grecian and Latin hexameters as a giant race of marauding outlaws, ruffians and cut-throats, who had no regard for the lives and property of the people among whom they roamed constantly on expeditions of murder and plunder. They led an idle and abandoned life, and neither plowed the soil nor planted seed, and had their abode in caves on the tops of lofty mountains.

This race has its counterpart in the modern Ku Klux, who are devasting the South, living by plunder and rapine, and mercilessly taking away the lives of innocent and loyal men. We have not heard whether the southern assassins and robbers are like the ancient Ku Klops in the hugeness of their dimensions, but we have proof sufficient to satisfy every impartial and honest mind that they are giants in evil, and are guilty of more atrocious and nefarious deeds than the fertile and prolific imagination of the Greek and Latin poets ever attributed to the rude and lawless Cyclopes. In proof of this, we need not do more than refer our readers to the majority report of the Select Committee on the investigation into the alleged outrages in the Southern States, which is based on the testimony of more than fifty witnesses, twenty-nine of whom were Republicans, twenty-one Democrats, two who have no political affinities, and six of the Ku-Klux themselves. In this report the Committee give the names of no less than ninety colored persons and forty-four white, all of whom were flagellated and inhumanly lacerated, and many of them shot, hanged, robbed and driven from their homes into exile. These crimes were not perpetrated under great momentary excitement or aggravated provocation. The testimony taken by the Committee shows that they were made the subject of grave deliberation, and were committed in obedience to express votes taken in Ku Klux assemblies, the members of which carried them into execution.

Many will wish to know upon what such fiendish treatment was based, and if there was an adequate cause for it, or any provocation given to, in any sense, justify or even palliate it. In the united States, nor in any other country, neither mob nor lynch law can be justified. If offences are committed, those upon whom they are perpetrated have, or at least should have, their remedy in the criminal courts of the land. But those persons who have been whipped, robbed and murdered committed no offence against any statute, state or national. The only crime alleged against them was that they were loyal citizens, good Republicans. One witness testified that the only cause to which he could attribute the unwonted outrages was that "the feeling there against loyal men has not abated," and that the disaffected men in the South are only "waiting an opportunity." This declaration the witness based upon statements made by several parties, "who say that when certain things have transpired, then they will bring certain men to account" Has it come to this that among a free people, enjoying liberty of speech and the press, an American citizen cannot with impunity maintain his chosen political affinities, or adhere to the doctrines of his party? We do not think there is a single Democrat in Allegheny county or the State of Pennsylvania, and we hope there are none in any Northern State, and comparatively few even in the South who will stand up and palliate and much less justify the wicked deeds of that infamous order called the Ku-Klux. Men of every party and every shade of politics should combine their efforts to suppress it. And if any Republican in his official capacity, or otherwise, has been guilty even of indiscretion, we will be the last to screen him from the gaze of scorn, or shield him from the punishment he deserves.

But will our readers believe it? The testimony contained in the report which has been drawn up by honest and patriotic men, prevents them from disbelieving it, that the maintenance of a Sabbath School for the instruction of colored children in the laws of morality, religion and virtue is deemed by the Ku-Kluxers a sufficient reason for bringing the heads of those to the block who support it. These misguided miscreants, then, are waging a war not only against politics, but also against religion. They will not allow colored children to be instructed in the paths of righteousness, because religion is opposed to their works of devilry and darkness. We know that many of our good Democratic friends in the North are consistent members both of Protestant and Catholic churches, and take a deep interest in the "Godly-upbringing" of the young, and we are well assured they will never lend their countenance or aid to any order, whatever may be its politics, that will make war upon the Sabbath Schools of the land.

These Ku Kluxers are like the ancient Cyclops in another point. They have but "one eye," and that solitary visual organ can look at nothing but Southern ascendancy. To secure this, the great object seems to be Northern humiliation, and it may be the overthrow of the Government. About the close of the late war the Richmond Dispatch, in reviewing the lost cause of the Confederacy, made use of the following quotation, the sentiment of which it adopted as its own:

> —"What though the field be lost?
> All is not lost. The unconquerable will,
> And study of revenge, immortal hate,
> And courage never to submit or yield;
> All these remain."

This sentiment, which, it is unnecessary for us to say, was that of the devil when he was thrown headlong by the Almighty over the battlements of heaven into the abyss of hell, seems to be deeply cherished by a portion of the Southern people. They cherish nothing but "immortal hate" to the Government of the United States, study nothing but "revenge" on the people of the North, and seem to be madly possessed of the determination "never to submit or yield" to law and order, and the arbitrament of the sword.

We believe it was Ulysses that delivered his companions, on their return from Troy, from the devouring and voracious jaws of Polyphemus, the Prince of the Cyclops, and it is to be hoped that Congress will invest another man of the same name, who has achieved greater things than the Grecian chief, with adequate power and authority to enable him to rescue the suffering people of the South from the fell grasp of the base, cowardly and disloyal Ku-Klux, who bear such a striking resemblance in name, nefarious deeds, idle habits and murderous disposition to the ancient Cyclops.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

MANURING ORCHARDS.

[From the Lancaster Farmer.]

About ten years ago I became owner of an orchard in this county, of which I had some knowledge from the time it was first planted. It was composed of the best varieties of apples of the kinds than most cultivated. I was greatly surprised, however, to see the appearance of the trees as well as the quality of the fruit. The trees had been for some time entirely neglected, and exhibited a wild and scrubby appearance, very similar to the crab apple and their fruit, but like superior either in size or quality.

I resolved to try the effect of thorough pruning, cultivation and manuring. As a consequence, I plowed, limed and manured the orchard well and planted it in corn. That season I obtained but little fruit, but this was owing to a general failure of the fruit crop throughout the country, on account of a long continuance of rainy weather during the blossoming season. The trees exhibited, nevertheless during the season a renewed vitality, there being a change in the foliage and growth of the trees, as well as in the size and quality of the fruit. Indeed, the trees seemed to have taken a fresh hold on life, and made more growth in one season than before they had done in two. The foliage was of a rich, dark green color, and even the blossoms seemed to become more attractive and beautiful. The effects of the manuring and other attention became manifest in the following year, and for the several successive years I continued to own it, it never failed to yield an abundant crop of delicious fruit, while my neighbors, who thought it a waste of manure to put it on an orchard had but little or none.

WILLIAM M'COMSEY.

CRUELTY TO SHEEP.

Many of the wool-growers wintered their flocks poorly last winter, on the ground that they could not afford to feed them well, and probably have done the same this winter. This in our opinion is a cruel and suicidal policy. Less returns are thus obtained from a given amount of food. Thirty half starved sheep will produce less good merchantable wool than twenty properly kept ones; will lose twice or three times as many by death; and will not raise half as many lambs. And what farmer possessing a spark of humanity is willing to see these poor defenceless animals slowly growing thinner and weaker—all of them tottering before March closes—many of the inlambed ewes incapable of raising with their burthen, and dying in parturition. A more painful spectacle of brute suffering than a flock in such a condition near the close of winter, cannot be witnessed, and we believe that morality has a voice in this matter as well as humanity.

Every flock-master who has more sheep than he can keep properly or sell, should kill the surplus when winter sets in, if he gets nothing from them but the pelts.—Dr. Randall, in Rural New Yorker.

AGE OF SHEEP.

The age of sheep may be known by examining their front teeth. They are eight in number and appear, during the first year, all of small size. In the second year the two middle ones fall out and their place is supplied by two new teeth, which are easily distinguished, being of larger size. In the third year, two other small teeth, one from each side, drop out, and are replaced by two large ones. In the fourth year, the large teeth are six in number, and only two small ones remain, one at each end of the range. In the fifth year, the remaining small teeth are large. In the sixth year, the whole begin to be worn, and in the seventh, sometimes sooner, fall out and are broken.

DRIED CLAY FOR ULCERS.

After reading the account of the great value of dry earth as a dressing for wounds, &c., in Waring's "Earth Closets, and how to make them," I dried and pulverized some clay, and recommended it as a valuable remedy to a neighbor woman who for ten years had a very bad ulcer on her ankle. She had paid our best physicians over fifty dollars for treatment, without any relief. She applied the dry clay almost constantly, for about six months, and a perfect cure has resulted. The first effect of the preparation was to remove inflammation and relieve pain and now she says there is no scar remaining, and her limb, which was stiff and lame, is as elastic as when she was a girl. The woman is very large, fleshy person, about forty years of age. I considered the test a very severe one, and the result very satisfactory. About a gallon of pulverized clay was used.—Country Gentleman.

GRASSING A TERRACE OR BANK.

"To use the most improved method for covering a bank of earth with grass, there is just one satisfactory way," if time and uniformity of the surface are important. This is to cover it with sods, taken from a road side or from an old pasture-field. A heavy seeding of white clover and red-top will make a good finish where the soil does not wash and gully away; but alone they are hardly reliable for terrace work. Upon very steep surfaces the turf may be held in place by means of wooden pins driven through it into the bank. Pieces of lath, a foot long, answer the purpose very well.

PLANT TREES—AN IMMEDIATE SATISFACTION.

We do not mean fruit-trees merely, for those you will be likely to plant, for the sake of the fruit, But plant shade trees. Do not neglect it—plant them now, in the present spring-time. Do not argue that it takes them too long to grow, and that you will not live to enjoy them. There is an immediate satisfaction in seeing them begin to grow and stretch forth their green branches. And it is not unpleasant to think that the small elm and oak, which you now put in the ground, will live when you are dead, and that your children and grandchildren will sit under their shade and bless you for its coolness.

STUFFED FISH.

Soak some bread in water, and squeeze it out, add a small onion, chopped fine, fried with butter till nearly done; add to the onion the bread, salt, pepper, a little nutmeg, a little broth, the yolk of one egg. Stir rapidly, cooking over a clear fire; when done, add a little parsley, chopped fine. Cut the back-bone out of a two pound fish, put the stuffing in its place, and sew it up with a trussing needle and twine; put a little salt and pepper on the fish, inside and out, a few pieces of butter under it in the pan, cover with a gill of broth, and bake in the oven.

OYSTER FRITTERS.

A pint and a half of milk; a pound and a quarter of flour; four eggs; the yolks of the eggs must be beaten very thick, to which add the milk, and stir the whole well together; whisk the whites to a stiff froth, and stir them gradually into the batter; take a spoonful of the mixture, drop an oyster into it, and fry in hot lard let them be a light brown on both sides. The oysters should not be put in the batter all at once, as they would thin it.

TO CLEAN BLACK RIBBON.

Take an old kid glove, no matter how old, and boil it in a pint of water for a short time; then let it cool until the latter can be taken in the hand without burning; use the glove wet with the water to sponge off the ribbon. If the ribbon is very dirty, dip it into water and draw it through the fingers a few times before sponging. After cleaning, lay a piece of paper over the ribbon and iron; paper is better than cloth. The ribbon will look like new.

BLINKERS, or blinders, (as they are appropriately termed.) are, fortunately, growing more and more unpopular. There is no earthly reason why they should be generally used, except that they afford a good field for the display of initial letters and family crests. They are a frequent cause of blindness, resulting from an undue pressure against the eye; they cause horses to be frightened by the sudden appearance before them of objects which, without blinkers, they would have seen slowly approaching; and their use for the mere purpose of ornament is unfortunate as is the use of green spectacles by fine eyed men.—Hints to Horse Keepers.

TO BAKE A LARGE FISH WHOLE.—Cut off the head, and split the fish down nearly to the tail; prepare a nice dressing of bread, butter, pepper and salt, moisten with a little water. Fill the fish with this dressing, and bind it together with fine cotton cord or tape, so as to confine it; the bindings may be three inches apart; lay the fish on a grate or a bake pan or a dripping pan, and pour round it a little water and melted butter. Baste frequently. A good sized fish will bake in an hour. Serve with the gravy of the fish, drawn butter or oyster sauce.

He got rid of the dirt, and also his whiskers, eyelashes, brows and hair.

MR. GEORGE W. ROUSE was killed in the woods near Girard depot, on Thursday last. He was cutting down a tree, which, as it fell, split from the stump. A piece flew back, striking him on the head, carrying one-half of it away. A man who was chopping near by, not hearing the sound of his ax as usual, went to see what was the matter, and found the man lying there dead. Mr. Rouse was a hard-working man, and leaves a wife and four or five children, who for a living were dependent upon his daily labor.

QUITE a sad accident occurred to a colored girl, daughter of Jordan Ross, living on the farm of Mr. L. M. Speer, in Rostraver township, Westmoreland county, a short time ago. It appears she undertook to fill a carbon oil lamp while it was burning, igniting the oil in the can, causing an explosion, setting the girl's clothes and the house on fire. Amid the confusion of getting the family out of the house, the girl's clothes were burned off her, crisping her flesh in a horrible manner. Medical aid was summoned and everything done to save the life of the unfortunate girl, but to no avail—she died in twenty-four hours thereafter. The house was saved by the timely help of the neighbors.

Murdered by an Idiot.

The Warrensburg, Mo., Standard of last week gives an account of the brutal murder of John M. Fitterling, and old, respectable and wealthy citizen of that county. The murder was committed about eight o'clock on Tuesday morning, February 28th. The Standard says:

"Mr. Fitterling had in his employ a simpleton named Canute Farland, a Norwegian, who did not like work too well. On Tuesday morning Mr. F. asked his workman to go with him and assist in putting up a fence. The fellow hesitated, but, notwithstanding, followed and was observed by Mrs. F. to follow close behind her husband, shaking his fists and gritting his teeth. Mrs. F. felt much anxiety for the safety of her husband, after noticing the reluctant manner in which the Norwegian obeyed his direction. It was not long, however, before a son of the deceased and a negro in his employ, who were working behind a hill only a few hundred yards distant, came rushing to the house and announced that Mr. F. had been hit on the head and was in a dying condition. He was taken to the house, only a short distance off, and medical attendance was immediately summoned. It is supposed that a crow bar, used in building fence, was the instrument with which the murderer inflicted the fatal wound, crushing the skull above the right ear. The crow-bar had a sharp pointed end, and judging from our information, the deceased was struck on the head with that end, the but end striking the fence, as the imprint was observed on two or three of the rails or boards. Mr. F. was probably in a stooping posture when the blow was struck. He lingered but one hour and a half. The occurrence took place about 8½ o'clock in the morning. The wound was directly above the right ear, and measured three by two inches. In the critical examination by the physicians, the brain oozed out. The Coroner's inquest was held in the afternoon, and facts elicited as we have stated.

After the body of the deceased was brought to the house, the accused was seen chopping wood in the back yard, with no garb on him but a pair of pantaloons. He displayed an unusual cooiness when interrogated. With the circumstantial evidence the suspicion of guilt fastened itself upon him, hence his arrest. Nothing of definite character, however, was elicited from him, and the poor imbecile broods a life in our county jail.

HORACE HOWE has recorded a deed giving in trust nearly $2,000,000 worth of real estate in San Francisco and San Mateo counties for the foundation of the Mount Eagle University. The deed contains most minute directions for the government of university perpetually, and requires to be raised in addition $100,000 within fifteen years, $500,000 in thirty years, $1,500,000 in fifty years, and $4,000,000 in one hundred years, or $6,000,000 altogether. In the event of failure to comply with any of the requirements the endowment is to lapse. It is believed that the provisions cannot be carried out and the trust must inevitably lapse.

AN INSALUBRIOUS SEASON.

Spring is welcome, but not its diseases. We should be glad to have its bloom without its fogs, its vapors, its sudden changes of temperature, and the agues, fits of indigestion, bilious attacks, and other harassing disorders which they engender. As this cannot be, it behooves all sensible people to do the best they can to escape such serious drawbacks on the poetry of the season. Ask any physician what the weak and delicate ought to do when miasma infects the air. The answer will be, "tone and regulate the system." But how? That is the importont question. A dozen medical men would probably recommend as many different medicines. On the other hand, the thousands who have tested the virtues of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an invigorant and alterative, will recommend but one, the wholesome preventive and restorative in which their own experience has taught them to trust. A course of this rare vegetable stimulant, commenced now, would save many a pang to the feeble and debilitated. It would be wise economy too, for it would probably preclude the necessity for medical advice. Without disparagement to a profession which all intelligent men and women respect and honor, it is just as well, if possible, to keep out of the doctors' hands, and they would have comparatively few cases of fever and ague, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness, and general debility to attend to, if this agreeable and healthful specific were in universal use.

Wellman Patent Reflector
STOVE AND GRATE.
Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.

1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.

2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.

3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.

4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.

5th. It is highly ornamental.

6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.

7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.

NEW 7-30 GOLD LOAN
OF THE
Northern Pacific
RAILROAD CO.
SECURED BY
First Mortgage on Railroad and Land Grant.

SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT!

JAY COOKE & CO.

Offer for sale at par and accrued interest the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They are free from United States Tax, and are issued of the following denominations: Coupons $100, $500, and $1,000; Registered $100, $500, $1,000 $5,000 and $10,000.

With the same entire confidence with which we commended Government bonds to Capitalists and People, we now, after the fullest investigation recommend these Northern Pacific Railroad bonds to our friends and the general public.

GOLD PAYMENT.—Both principal and interest are payable in American gold coin, at the office of Jay Cooke & Co., New York City—the principal at the end of 30 years, and the interest (at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum) half-yearly, first of January and July.

PERFECT SAFETY.—The bonds we are now selling are secured by a first and only mortgage on all the property and rights of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which will embrace on the completion of the work:

1. Over Two Thousand Miles of Road, with rolling stock, buildings, and all other equipments.

2. Over Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to every mile of finished road. This land, agricultural, timbered and mineral, amounting in all to more than Fifty Million Acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to forty miles on each side of the track, and extending in a broad fertile belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, to Puget Sound.

While the Government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the Road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unreserved grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon the great national improvement.

THE MORTGAGE.—The Trustees under the Mortgage, are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interests of the First Mortgage bond holders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the Company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the Trustees are to invest the proceeds of land sales in United States Bonds or Real Estate Mortgages for the further security of Northern Pacific bondholders. Also, that they have at all times in their control, as security, 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.

PROFITABLENESS.—Of course nothing can be safer than the bonds of the United States, but as the Government is no longer a borrower, and as the Nation's present work is not that of PRESERVING its existence, but that of DEVELOPING A CONTINENT, we remind those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while still having a perfectly reliable security that:

United States 5-20's at their average premium yield the present purchaser less than 5¼ per cent. gold interest. Should they be redeemed in five years, and specie payments be resumed, they would really pay only 4¾ per cent., or if in three years only 3½ per cent., as the present premium would meanwhile be sunk.

Northern Pacific 7-30's selling at par in currency yield the investor 7 3-10 per cent. gold interest absolutely for thirty years, free from United States tax. $1,100 currency invested now in United States 5-20's will yield per year in gold, say $62.00. $1,100 currency invested now in Northern Pacific 7-30's will yield per year in gold, $80.30. Here is a difference in annual income of nearly one-third, besides a difference of 7 to 10 per cent. in principal, when both classes of bonds are redeemed.

THE ROAD NOW BUILDING.—Work was begun in July last on the eastern portion of the line, and the money provided, by the sale to stockholders of some six millions of the Company's bonds, to build and equip the road from Lake Superior across Minnesota to the Red River of the North—233 miles. The grading on this division is now well advanced, the iron is being rapidly laid; several thousand men are at work on the line, and about the first of August next this important section of the road will be in full operation. In the meantime orders have been sent to the Pacific coast for the commencement of the work on the western end in early Spring, and thereafter the work will be pushed, both eastward and westward, with as much speed as may be consistent with solidity and a wise economy.

RECEIVABLE FOR LANDS.—These bonds will be at all times, before maturity, receivable, at 1-10, in payment for the Company's lands, at their lowest cash price.

BONDS EXCHANGEABLE.—The registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for coupons, the coupons for registered, and both these can be exchanged for others, payable, principle and interest, at any of the financial centres of Europe, in the coin of the various European countries.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these can do so with any of our agents, who will allow the highest current price for all marketable securities.

Those living in localities remote from banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this loan. For sale by

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated: Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 3 P. M. Office, No. 296 PENN STREET.

NEW YORK, March 13, 1871.

Gold has been dull all day at from 11⅛ to 11¾. Loans were made at from 10 to 4 per cent. Clearances $17,000,000. Government bonds dull and barely steady on old issues but firm on newer classes, though there has been no important movement noted in any class, and nothing new in regard to funding. Stocks opened steady at about Saturday's prices but fell off a little at first call. They rallied again about noon, and during the afternoon the entire market was very steady. Lake Shore, New York Central and Ohio & Mississippi were strong and tolerably active. Erie was weak and sold down to 20. Ohio was the feature, and during the day sold up to 49⅝. The market closed strong. The mercantile failure alluded to on Saturday, is that of J. C. Converse, Whiting & Co. Money easy at from 4 to 5 per cent. State securities dull; Virginia bonds strong; North Carolina's off a little and Tennessee's dull.

Ear Corn is in demand, and the market is almost bare: we are reported sales of prime yellow on wharf at 72@73. Very little inquiry for shelled, and in the absence of sales we omit quotations. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 13, 1871.

The oil market continues dull and neglected, and while as compared with Saturday there is but little change in prices, the tendency nevertheless, is still downward. No better illustration of the ugly condition of the oil trade can be made, than by contrasting prices to-day against this time last year. Last year at this time crude was worth just about what it is quoted at to-day, while refined was worth 3@3½ cts more; the margin then was considered very light but as will be seen if there was scarcely any margin then, there is none now; indeed, we have been assured time and again by refiners, who are neither bulls nor bears, that at present prices the manufacturer would have to incur an actual loss. Nor is this state of affairs restricted to Pittsburgh alone. Cleveland is no better off than we are, and there, as here, there is little or nothing doing. Even the producers are obliged to admit that crude is relatively much higher than refined, but they argue that refined is too low and must advance. The advices from abroad, however, are anything but favorable for an improved price for refined, and it follows, therefore, that there is no reasonable probability of any improvement in trade until the producers are satisfied to accept such prices for crude as consumers can afford to give.

CRUDE.

Quiet and dull and unchanged. Spot or seller March may be quoted at 11 cts—sale 1000 bbls seller until July at 11. There are but few buyers even at 11 cts.

CATTLE.

The supply of cattle, as will be seen, was unusually light to-day, 29 loads from the west and about one load from the country adjoining, making 30 cars or some thing like 550 head, just about one half the number that was on sale last week. While, as might be expected, with this small number on sale, the market was stronger and more active, yet after all the supply seemed to be fully up to the demand, and prices were not quotably higher. Of the 30 loads on sale, 20 loads were from Chicago, and the balance mainly from Ohio; the quality was hardly as good as it has been for some time past, the great proportion of the offerings consisting of the common and medium grades, however, the butchers, so far as we could learn, were all supplied, and there were no other buyers for good cattle.

Stock cattle were in moderate demand and all that offered were taken at about last weeks prices, say 5@5½. Fresh cows reported dull and quoted at $40@80 for common to good.

M. Varner reports 34 head of fair to prime at 5@7½ cts.

S. Shamberg & Haas 1 load of fair to good butchers stock, at 6@6.90.

Greenwald & Kahn report 35 head of mixed stock, at 5@7½.

Rothchilds & Zeigler 2 loads of fair to prime, at 5@7½.

M. Wilson sold sold 8 head of Washington Co. steers, at 6@6¾.

Traurman & Lobman 37 head of common to medium stock, at 5¼@6¾.

M. Kraus 20 head from west and 5 from Washington Co., at 6@6¾.

M. Kauffman 9 head of fair to good Ohio steers, at 5¾@6 cts.

Katz & Rothchilds 2 loads of western stock, at 6¼@7½.

Chas. Metz sold 1 load for P Hartman.

Emerick & Co. 1 load of good to prime Ohio steers, at 6¾@7 cts.

Snee & Chamberlain report 34 head of good 800 lb stock steers, at an average of 5 cts.

L. & J. Shamberg report 79 head; sold stockers, at 5@5½; and fat cattle, at 6@7 cts.

S. Marks Bro. 79 head of fair to prime butchers stock, at 6@7¼.

Keefer & Beyer 28 head of fair to good butchers stock, at 6@6¾.

SHEEP.

The offerings of Sheep were again light this week, though the supply, nevertheless, seemed to be fully up to the demand, and there were some left over. The demand for all grades of sheep seems to have fallen off very perceptibly within the past month or two, and as the butchers are not buying one half as many as they did in the winter, it is evident that the consumption of mutton is very much reduced. Both butchers and dealers are complaining about the high prices, that there is no money in trading in sheep, live or dead, and it is not likely that there will be any improvement until after shearing season is over.

A. Stakely sold 21 sheep, averaging about 90 lbs, at 6 cts; 30 head at an average of $4.50 per head.

Aull & Co. report 50 head, averaging 80 lbs, for which they expected to realize about 5 cts.

Jas. Shaw retailed 51 head of good Lawrence Co. sheep at an average of about 5½ cts.

Adam Eckert wholesaled 82 head to John Hoffman, averaging 72 lbs, at $4.65.

Harrison turned over 112 head of scalawags to Partridge to pelt; held at $1.65 per head.

John Walters wholesaled 60 head to Peter Tesh, averaging 90 lbs, at 6; retailed 47 head of mixed stock at $3@4½ per head.

Jas. Bamford & Son report 182 head of fair to good, mostly at 5@5½—some few at — Emerick & Co had 204 head of extra, averaging 120 lbs, whole lot held at 7 cts—unsold.

HOGS.

The Hog market was dull, and, notwithstanding the offerings were by no means large, prices, as compared with last week, have declined ¼ of a cent, and we now quote at 7¾@8¼, in a retail way.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly, with 8 feet 4 inches in channel last evening. Weather unsettled.

The Juniata left Cincinnati on time, on Sunday, and will be here to leave on her regular day, Thursday.

The Julia returns to Zanesville to-day, leaving at 4 P. M.

The government for river transportation on the Upper Missouri was awarded at Chicago the other day, to A. F. Holley, owner of the steamer. It is understood that the following boats have been engaged under this contract: Miner, E. H. Durfee, Far West, Nellie Peck, Ida Rees and Esperanza. We also understand that the award was made fairly to the lowest and best bidder, and that there is not the slightest room for complaint in this or any other respect.

The Lorena arrived from New Orleans yesterday afternoon with a good trip, consisting mainly of sugar and molasses.

Capt. Coulson expects to leave for St. Louis and Fort Benton this evening—if not, he will positively go on Wednesday.

The Skillinger did not get off until after dark.

The R. W. Skillinger arrived from Portsmouth early on Sunday evening with an excellent cargo and a fair number of passengers. Her business seems to be increasing every trip.

The Shannon, from New Orleans, and Julia No. 2 from Zanesville, also, arrived on Sunday night.

The Far West, Capt. S. B. Coulson, is filling up steadily for St. Louis and Missouri River—it should be borne in mind that she goes clear through to Fort Benton.

Capt. W. H. Harlan, it is stated, was very unceremoniously relieved of his command of the Argosy yesterday. He is succeeded by Capt. B. F. Goodwin, of Wheeling. It is reported that she is to withdraw from the trade shortly.

The Messenger, Capt. Robt. Greenlee, will be the first boat out for New Orleans—she goes clear through.

The Alexander Mitchell, Capt. Lon Bryson, is advertised to depart for St. Paul on Thursday without fail. She is a large and elegant side-wheeler, and offers superior accommodations to passengers. Here is an excellent opportunity for families migrating westward.

The new steamer E. H. Durfee, Capt. W. Coulson, is announced for the Missouri River forthwith; it should be borne in mind that the Durfee goes clear up to Fort Benton.

The Brill, Capt. Cox, is announced to depart for Nashville on Thursday.

The Belle Vernon, from Nashville, is due here to-day.

The Twenty-first ward proposes going it alone on the market house question, and to build, at the cost of the citizens of the district, a suitable building.

The funeral services over the remains of the late John Redman, Esq., will take place this afternoon at one o'clock, at the First Methodist church of East Birmingham.

Advices from Hon. R. W. Mackey, of recent date, assure his friends that he is steadily gaining health and strength in the South. He will be home about the first of April.

The Democrats of Allegheny county, including R. H. Kerr, Esq., the resolutionizer, will meet in convention at the Court House to-day to elect delegates to the State Democratic Convention.

On their way rejoicing.—The Kiralfy troupe, whose goods were attached by Manager Aims of the Varieties, save bonds in the sum of $1,000. Their property was released, and they shook the dust of Pittsburgh from their feet.

The following is a list of letters held for postage in the Pittsburgh Postoffice:—

The remains of Mr. F. A. Gossin, brother of Mr. J. Leslie Gossin of the Opera House, arrived in the city this morning from Weldon, N. C., where he died on Friday last. The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock from Rev. R. Lee's church, at Lawrenceville.

Glass-Blowers Row.—Officer Stemmler yesterday arrested Nicholas Kress on the complaint of Charles Hughes. The parties are glass blowers, employed at Chambers factory in Birmingham. The assault consisted of a blow on the head with a hammer. The case will be duly investigated.

Execution Sale.—We would call the attention of those wanting a house to the sale of the property, Nos. 89 and 91 Beaver street, Allegheny city. This is a most desirable location, near the parks, railway and market. Will be sold on Wednesday, March 15th, at 2½ o'clock, on the premises, at auction.

Another Bridge Scrape.—Yesterday a warrant was issued for the arrest of one Michael Gray, who is charged by Michael Callerin with assisting two other men, to the complainant unknown, in assaulting him on Monday evening near the South end of the Monongahela Suspension Bridge. Callerin says the two men held him and Gray pounded him, all without provocation. His head bore marks of beating, and there was blood to show too. Time will reveal further particulars.

Juvenile Thieves.—A warrant was issued yesterday by the Mayor for the arrest of Geo. Todd, Lawrence Gilston, Jacob Cobbler, John Long and John Archibald, five boys, who are charged by Mr. John Miller, who keeps a store on Penn street, with breaking in a window and stealing a number of penknives and other wares, valued in all at $46.50. Todd and Gilston were arrested and most of the stolen property recovered. The other boys will be arrested as soon as the officers can get them.

Additional Boarders.—Mary Scott has engaged lodgings in the work-house for thirty days. Her reference was Mayor Brush. One Conner also will enjoy the select society of that institution for sixty days, seclusion having been prescribed for him for a time. The attractions of society being such that he is unable at times to refrain from shouting and knocking people down. It is hoped that this temporary retirement will give a little one to his system and enable him to participate in the sweets of social intercourse without permitting too exuberant a flow of his animal spirits.

Office of the Board of Health, }
164 Fourth avenue, Mar. 11, 1871. }

As our city is liable a visitation of that terrible disease, small pox, (it being now very prevalent in some of the Eastern cities), we would urge upon our citizens the importance of immediate vaccination. The Physician of the Board of Health will be in attendance at the office of the Board, No. 164 Fourth avenue, on Monday of each week, from 2 to 3 P. M., for the purpose of gratuitous vaccination, and all persons are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity.

By order of the Board of Health.
1m. Crosby Gray, Health Officer.

Female Liquor Seller's Troubles.

Yesterday morning Caroline Beazel, proprietress of an establishment on Sixth avenue, was arrested and taken before U. S. Commissioner Gamble for violation of the revenue laws. It is charged that she maintains a regular "bar" in her house, from which all patrons are supplied with liquors, while she has never paid any special tax for a license as required. The house has a bad reputation. The accused professed ignorance of the law and claimed that she had not sold any liquors as alleged. She remained in the office nearly all day waiting for "a friend" to enter bail for her appearance at a hearing or at Court, and at last, about six o'clock, that person appeared and gave the required security. She was then released to appear this afternoon at two o'clock. She claims to be the owner of real estate valued at $100,000.

Election of Officers of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company.

The Board of Directors of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company at their last meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Col. W. Phillips, President; Jno. Ballantine, Esq., Controller; Capt. W. A. Tomlinson, Secretary and Treasurer; Col. J. J. Lawrence, General Superintendent; Thos. M. King, Assistant Superintendent; Capt. H. Blackstone, Chief Engineer; S. J. Jackson, Resident Engineer. Mr. Ballantine declining re-election for the positions of Secretary and Treasurer, which he has filled for a number of years with signal ability and faithfulness, was, in acknowledgment of his distinguished past services as Financier of the Company, elected Controller. Mr. Tomlinson is popularly known as a high toned and successful gentleman of agreeable manners and rare business endowment. His election for Treasurer and Secretary is one highly gratifying to the business community. Mr. Ferd. E. Voltz, late Revenue Collector of the Twenty-second District, has been appointed Paymaster. A gentleman of winning address and energetic character, he is admirably calculated for an efficient and popular officer. With such a capable corps of officers, under the leadership of one of the best railroad managers on the Continent, the Valley Road enters on what promises to prove an era of unexampled prosperity in its history.

Moon Struck.

Among the inmates of the lock-up on Saturday night was one Fred Bahn, who was detained on charge of drunkenness. His conduct on the street was such as to give rise to either the idea of drunkenness or lunacy, for he was apparently enamored of the moon. Not being given to poetry, and unable to quote "Roll on thou silver moon," or the customary phrases of the "chaste moon," "the Diana of night" and those expressions familiar to lovers and poets, he adopted the less poetic but more practical method of addressing the moon in prose, bowing with much politeness to the man in the moon, in whom he probably thought he recognized an acquaintance, and occasionally "shying" his hat into the air, as if the moon were a bat which he wished to bring down.

These freaks being in the eye of the police, signs rather of inebriety than poetic fervor, he was locked up as aforesaid, but discharged on Sunday morning.

On being released he applied himself, in the temporary absence of the moon, on duty elsewhere, to the cultivation of an acquaintance with the sun, bowing and scraping in the politest manner, but making the same impression as heretofore on the prosaic police. He was arrested again, and will be held until his state of mind is ascertained.

If whisky is the cause of his strange conduct, we may be permitted to say that it takes a more humanitarian turn in his case than in that of many others. Surely it is better to apostrophize the sun, and be on speaking terms with the man in the moon, than to rove round the streets with a big stick or a pistol.

Birmingham Council.

This Council last night held an adjourned meeting.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The Burgess read the following preamble and resolution of respect to the memory of John Redman, Esq., deceased, who was a member of the present Council, and died on Sunday morning.

Whereas, Our late fellow citizen and member of this Council, John Redman has through the Providence of God departed this life.—Therefore,

Resolved, That as fellow citizens and members of the Council, we deplore his loss, as we have always found him a neighbor beloved, charitable, kind, generous and sympathizing in his demeanor, and as a member of Council, able, courteous and obliging in his intercourse with his fellow members, having in his deportment always manifested the christian gentleman.

Resolved, That while we thus express our feelings of esteem and regard for the dead, we hereby extend to the family of the deceased our condolence and sympathy, in being bereaved of a kind husband and an affectionate father, whom to know was to cherish and to love.

Resolved, That we will attend the funeral of said deceased on to-morrow afternoon.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on the minutes, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our late lamented fellow member.

Birmingham, March 13, 1871.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted after which the council adjourned to meet again this evening a week hence to hear the reports of the officers, they not being all ready last night.

PITTSBURGH COUNCILS.

Regular Meeting—Unfinished Business Disposed of—Regular Monthly Reports—Report of the Water Commission.

A regular meeting of Councils was held at their Chambers yesterday, and quite an amount of business disposed of.

Select Council.

This branch was called to order by the President at 2:15 o'clock.

On the roll being called, the following members answered to their names: Messrs. Ahl, Ahlborn, Aiken, Burgwin, Chislett, Devlin, Donnelly, Edwards, Friday, Gallaher, Hoeb, Herron, House, Jeremy, E. P. Jones, Isaac Jones, Kehew, Kirk, Lang, Laufman, Littell, Lloyd, Marshall, McCune, Miller, Morrow, Murray, Neeley, Phillips, Rafferty, Schmidt, Scully, Seely, Shipton, Thompson, S. J. Wainwright, Z. Wainwright, Wilson and Gross, President.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read.

Mr. Gallaher moved to amend the minutes relative to Tripartite bridge resolution, passed at the last meeting of Councils, by adding the following:

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be signed by the proper officers and sent to the Legislature of the State without delay.

The minutes as amended were then approved.

Mr. Gallaher presented a petition for the grading, paving and curbing of Miltenberger Alley. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Herron offered a resolution instructing the Road Commissioners to keep the board walks in their respective districts in repair. Referred to Road Committee.

Mr. Isaac Jones presented the following communication from Geo. A. Himbleright:—

To the Select and Common Councils of the city of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—The undersigned would respectfully represent that he holds a claim against Liberty township amounting to $140.97, and as there seems to be no funds on hand, from which the Controller can pay it, he would be much obliged if your honorable bodies would make provision for it.

George A. Himbleright,
Per S. M. Clean & Co.

Referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Ahlborn presented a petition for the opening of Thirty-fifth street, from Butler street to Allegheny river. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Donnelly, a communication from Samuel Duff, offering to sell certain property for the location of a market house. Referred to Market Committee.

Mr. Kirk offered an ordinance repealing all ordinances authorizing the erection of frame buildings in the old borough of Lawrenceville. Referred to Committee on Wooden Buildings.

Mr. Edwards presented a petition asking for the appointment of viewers to assess benefits and damages on Frankstown avenue, and to open the same to the width authorized by ordinance. Referred to Road Committee.

Also, a petition from Alexander King, representing that his property has been damaged by the grading of Larimer avenue, and asking that he be paid therefor. Referred to Road Committee, with a special request that immediate action be taken thereon.

Mr. Lloyd moved that the rules be suspended in order to present the report of the Water Commissioners and the Engineer. Carried. (For Report, see first page.)

He also presented the report of the Engineer with plans and drawings, and suggested that they be published in pamphlet form for the information of the citizens.

Mr. Isaac Jones moved that one thousand copies be published in pamphlet form for distribution.

Mr. Kirk moved to amend that they be published once in the official papers.

Amendment accepted and Mr. Jones, motion carried.

Mr. Lloyd moved that the matter be referred to the Printing Committee and that they be requested to take immediate action. Carried.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The President then took up the unfinished business on his desk, which was disposed of as follows:

An ordinance passed in C. C. rescinding a contract between Driscoll & Stolzenback and the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Edwards moved that the rules be suspended and the ordinance read three times and passed.

Mr. Lappan asked for the reading of the ordinance.

Mr. Burgwin [illegible] in reference to the matter.

Mr. Edwards moved that the whole question be referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Rafferty stated that the whole matter had been before the Street Committee already.

Mr. Edwards did not think if the city had been the loser that these parties would have refunded.

Mr. E. P. Jones stated that the matter had been fully discussed before the Street Committee.

Mr. Kirk moved to amend by referring back to the Street Committee to state their reasons.

Mr. Herron stated that the matter had been approved by the street Committee and the report signed by all the members.

Mr. Edwards would ask if the sewer was finished.

Mr. E. P. Jones stated that the question had been before the old Council and fully considered. The gentleman asked that the question be recommitted. Does he think that the committee will go back upon their action? Stultify themselves? He thought not. The committee were men who understood their responsibility, and who had examined this question and reported in its favor, and why should it be returned to them?

Mr. Kirk pressed his amendment, and stated that the committee last year had refused to recommend the rescinding of the contract.

The question was put and the amendment lost.

The question then recurred on the motion to suspend the rules.

Mr. Burgwin thought that this was not a question in which a suspension of the rules was necessary, and read from the rules to sustain his opinion.

Mr. Edwards called for the yeas and nays. Call sustained.

Mr. Herron stated that the City Solicitor had given an opinion in the matter in which he stated that the city would not be liable for the difference in price between the old contract and any new one that might be made.

The following result:

Ayes—Messrs. Ahl, Ahlborn, Burgwin, Chislett, Devlin, Donnelly, Friday, Gallagher, Herron, Hoeb, House, Jeremy, Jones, E. P., Jones Isaac, Kehew, Lang, Littell, Lloyd, Marshall, McCune, Miller, Morrow, Neely, Phillips, Rafferty, Schmidt, Scully, Seely, Shipton, Thompson, Wainwright S. J., Wainwright Z. Wilson and President Gross—34.

Nays—Messrs Aiken, Edwards, Kirk, Laufman, Murray—5.

The rules were therefore suspended and the ordinance passed.

Report of Street Committee was made and accepted in C. C. Action of C. C. concurred in by S. C.

PROPOSED NEW MARKET HOUSE.

Mr. Morgan presented the draft of a proposed act empowering certain gentlemen to form an association under the title of the Twenty-first Ward Market House Company, for the purpose of erecting a market house in the Twenty-first ward.

The gentleman read the proposed act, which was quite lengthy, and then moved that it be approved and forwarded to Harrisburg for approval.

Mr. Batchelor—Mr. President, I move to refer that matter to the Market Committee till we see what's in it.

Mr. Morgan thought it was not necessary. The act was plain and spoke for itself. There was no "snake in the grass" or "nigger in the woodpile." A number of citizens in the Twenty-first ward wanted to build a market house there on their own account. They proposed to run it until it had paid for itself and ten per cent on the original investment, and then the city might take it if they desired. He could see no objection to allowing any company to build a market house if they desired to do so under such terms.

Mr. Batchelor contended that if the matter was fair that it would do no harm to refer it to the Market Committee for investigation until next meeting. He made a motion to so refer it, which was voted down.

He then offered an amendment, "Provided, however, it shall be lawful for the citizens of any other ward of the city of Pittsburgh to organize an association for the erection of a Market House subject to all the provisions herein contained."

Mr. Caskey moved the amount be made seven per cent, instead of ten. Lost.

The act as then amended by Mr. Batchelor was approved.

Mr. Barr, petition accompanied by ordinance for opening of Forbes street, from Snady avenue to Park avenue. Petition accepted and read three times and passed.

Mr. Morgan called up the report from the Special Committee appointed to negotiate with the officers of the Monongahela Turnpike Company for the purchase of said road, with a resolution authorizing the Controller to draw a warrant on the Treasurer for $5,000 to pay for the road, and charge the same to the contingent fund. Resolution read three times and passed.

Mr. Morgan also presented a resolution authorizing the Controller to draw a warrant in favor of Mr. Stuart McKee for $25.69 in full for claims, and charge the same to the contingent fund. [This was an amount over paid in taxes.] Resolution read three times and passed.

Business from Select Council was then taken up. The ordinance "repealing an ordinance authorizing the widening of Forty-Second street, from Butler street to Penn avenue" in C. C. February 27, 1871 was read three times and passed; S. C., March 13, laid on table; C. C. March 13, adhered and asked for Committee of conference; J. H. Jones, Evan Jones, R. H. Smith were appointed by C. C.

Ordinance authorizing grading, &c. of Forty Second street from Butler to Penn avenue, in C. C. February 27, 1871, read three times and passed; S. C. March 13, laid on table; C. C. adhered and asked for Committee on Conference. Same Committee on both matters.

The annual report of the Controller as accepted in S. C. and ordered to be printed once, was presented in C. C. and this action concurred in.

The report of the Water Committee for January as accepted in S. C. February 28th was presented March 13th in C. C. and approved.

The report of the Water Committee was next presented. In S. C. it had been read and ordered to be published with the Engineer's report once in the official papers, and 1,000 copies in pamphlet form.

Mr. Morgan moved to amend by striking out the Engineer's report in the publication in the newspapers, and order it only to be published in the pamphlet. He understood that the figure work in the report could not be set up in any newspaper office in the city.

The amendment was put in writing and accepted, when the report was sent back to S. C. for action.

Common Council then adjourned.

TEACHERS' UNION.

Sabbath School Teachers in Council—What They Think on Sociability—A Large Audience—Interesting Exercises.

The regular monthly meeting of the Sabbath School Teachers' Union of the United and Reformed Presbyterian Churches of Pittsburgh was held last evening in the Sixth avenue U. P. Church, (Rev. Thomas H. Hanna, pastor,) at 7½ o'clock, President Samuel B. Reed in the chair, with Mr. E. S. Morrow acting as Secretary. The meeting was the largest of the season, and the exercises were as usual of much interest. Minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted, after which reports were presented by the several committees. The Committee on Temperance reported and presented a pledge to be used in all the schools of the Union.

The preliminary business being disposed of, the President announced as the subject of discussion, "Sociability of Teachers," to be opened by Rev. Wm. J. Reid. Mr. Reid introduced his subject in a very pleasing and interesting manner. He gave an accurate and nicely drawn definition of the subject and then proceeded to the discussion in general. He believed he found more profit as a minister of the gospel from intercourse with his brethren in the ministry than any other way. Such is also the experience of of the Sabbath school teacher. When discouraged and weary in the work, how refreshing it is to hear a kind word of encouragement from a fellow-worker. When we hear those who stand high in the Christian work tell of their discouragement, we are thus, by their sympathy and counsel, stimulated to renewed effort. The speaker related instances where teachers developed this disposition in a wrong direction. When teachers hurry through their studies to engage in frivolous conversation, it is wrong. The reverend gentleman continued at some length, and his address was one of great interest.

After prayer by T. J. Gillespie, Dr. John G. Brown addressed the meeting. He was aware that teachers would all have their more intimate associates, but as a general thing the disposition was not cultivated as it ought to be. The Doctor gave many incidents which came under his notice during his ministry of the evil effects of the want of this habit both among members of the church and Sabbath School teachers. He did not believe in teachers getting into little cliques and parties after the session is over and remaining only in their own little circle.

Rev. T. H. Hanna said he would finish Dr. Brown's speech by adding that teachers should not be so sociable as to talk with one another until after the minister has commenced his sermon in the Church. Sabbath school teachers should show themselves brethren, remembering that they are engaged in the one common work. There should be no rich and poor here, no aristocrats and plebians, but all one in Christ Jesus. He feared that perhaps the feelings of the social world had crept into the Sabbath School, and he hoped the discussion of this subject to-night would do good.

Mr. John Spratt remarked that the preachers had edified us on this subject, but he did not think that they were as sociable as they ought to be. When meetings are dismissed often the preachers are seen by themselves in a corner. He referred to the mighty impulses towards a truer and better life by a kind shake of the hand and an earnest "God Bless You."

Dr. Kerr, an old veteran in the Sabbath School cause, gave his lengthened experience in this matter. Some of his incidents were amusing in the extreme. He believed that it would promote sociability if teachers would not dress so fine on the Sabbath day.

After an eloquent address by Mr. John Montgomery, President Reid made a few closing remarks. He referred in very complimentary terms to the members of the Union and believed that in this respect they were worthy of great praise and an example that others might emulate.

After the transaction of some unimportant business, the President announced as the subject for the next meeting, "The Teacher Teaching." The exercises were then brought to a close with prayer and benediction by Rev. John G. Brown, D. D.

JOHNNY ROBINSON AGAIN.

He is Brought to Testify at Court and the Officers in Charge get Drunk and Allow Him to Escape.

Yesterday the notorious Johnny Robinson was brought to the city by two officers of the Work House for the purpose of testifying in a case on trial at Court. During the day they accompanied him on a visit to Lawrenceville where the officers imbibed rather more ale than was prudent, considering the slippery character of their charge, and allowed him to escape. In the evening these most trustworthy guardians returned to the city and, it is said, one of them minus his hat, and both beastly drunk. At the Union Depot one of them named Gillespie acted in a very disorderly manner and drew a pistol on Mr. Thos. M. King, Assistant Superintendent of the Allegheny Railroad. He was arrested and committed to the lock-up to await a hearing this morning, when we understand Mr. King will prefer a charge of felonious assault against him.

The Season Opened—New Spring Styles in Hats and Caps—Wm. Fleming & Co. Again Take the Lead.

Spring is upon us, and ever-varying Dame Fashion has inaugurated many new styles in what we wear. Many changes have been made in hats and caps, as we observed yesterday on paying a visit to the mammoth establishment of Wm. Fleming & Co., No. 139 Wood street, where all the new spring styles in men and boys' hats and caps have been opened. In addition to the many novelties selected from the principal manufacturers of the country, this house presents also a number of their own originalities in the shape of fine dress hats, which have had a great and popular run. The prices are very reasonable.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY MEETING.

Christ's Church Crowded—The Utmost Enthusiasm Prevailed—Report of the Secretary—Addresses by Mrs. Willig, Mrs. Eastley and Others—Life Members Added.

Christ's M. E. Church was crowded to its utmost capacity last evening by an earnest audience who had assembled to participate in the exercises of a meeting held in the interests of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Bishop Kingsley, President of the Society, presided.

The exercises opened by the singing of the 174th hymn, commencing

"Jesus thy blood and righteousness."

An eloquent prayer was then offered by Mrs. Johnston.

The hymn

"Watchman tell us of the night"

was then sung, after which Mrs. Kingsley explained the object of the meeting. She stated that the Society under whose auspices it was held is known as "The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society." For some time past the Methodist ladies of Pittsburgh and Allegheny have been working in the interest of this Society, and the meeting of this evening was for the purpose of giving the general public a better idea of its objects. Mrs. Kingsley concluded by introducing Mrs. Walker, secretary, who read a report, in which she gave a history of the organization of the Society, and stating that auxilary societies had been organized by Mrs. Bishop Kingsley, President, at the following churches.

Butler street Church ninety members, and twenty-seven subscribers to the Heathen Woman's Friend; Liberty street Church one hundred and eighteen members, and twelve subscribers to the Heathen Woman's Friend; Christ's Church, fifty-three members and thirty-seven subscribers to Heathen Woman's Friend; North avenue Church, Allegheny, forty-four members and forty-seven subscribers to the Heathen Woman's Friend.

At the conclusion of the report Mrs. Kingsley introduced Mrs. Jennie F. Willig, of Chicago, corresponding secretary of the Chicago branch.

This lady after stating that this Association was under the control, and had the sympathy of the parent boards of the Church, went into a history of the good accomplished by missionary effort, and made a strong appeal in favor of the Women's Missionary cause, described the degredation to which women were subjected in Oriental countries, and thought that women, as missionaries, in view of the peculiar social standing of the sex in those countries, could accomplish more good among them than men. Some argued, she said, that the missionareis were all married and that their wives could act as missionaries. These women were mothers as well as wives, and had their children and household duties to attend to, and therefore could not devote the time necessary for the improvement of the native women. What was wanted was earnest and energetic women who had no home ties and duties to distract them from the noble work of rescuing their benighted sisters from the darkness that surrounds them. She continued at some length, relating many incidents of woman's trials and sacrifices in those heathen lands, and concluded her address with an earnest appeal for material aid. She was listened to throughout with the most rapt attention.

Mrs. Kingsley called upon the ladies who had been appointed to canvass for funds to make a tour of the Church. Quite a number of ladies came forward and made a circuit of the Church seeking contributions for the good cause.

While the collections were being made Mrs. Willig related a number of interesting anecdotes of missionary life.

After the ladies had returned, two very fine looking and intelligent Chinese boys in the costume of that country sung two songs in their native language.

Mrs. Eastlacke was then introduced and made a stirring appeal for material aid to the object in view.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Eastlacke's remarks Mrs. Kingsley stated that it was not the purpose to take up a formal collection, but that the Chinese boys would pass through the assemblage and that any who felt so disposed might make contributions to them.

The Rev. Dr. Nesbit was then called upon and said that it was contrary to the rules of the society and that the ladies who were was timid did not like to ask for contributions on occasions such as the present, he, therefore, would urge upon the audience the propriety of subscribing liberally.

He then stated that there was one brother in the church who proposed to educate an orphan in India, and as that could be done for the small sum of $30 per annum, he thought there might be present many who would like to signalize this occasion in a similar manner.

Mrs. Kingsley exhibited here a number of Chinese idols and curiosities, among them a pair of shoes but one inch and a quarter in length, which she stated had been worn by an adult Chinese lady.

"Greenland's icy mountains" was then sung by the choir, the congregation joining, after which

Mrs. Kingsley said that she was happy to announce that Mrs. Gray, wife of the pastor of Christ Church, had been made a life member of the society.

She also gave notice that there would be a meeting of the working members of the society at the North avenue Church at three o'clock to-day to meet Mrs. Willig and Mrs. Eastlacke.

Some one in the audience proposed to make Mrs. Willig a life member, when two ladies contributed $5 each for that purpose.

Mr. Wallace announced that he would pay the fee, $30, necessary to make Mr. Gray, their pastor, a life member.

The Doxology was then sung, and the audience, after a benediction had been invoked by the Rev. Dr. Nesbit, dispersed, highly pleased with the evening's entertainment.

EXTENSIVE REVENUE SEIZURE.

A Grocery in the Diamond closed up—Alleged Defrauding of the Government—Interesting Case for the Court.

The U. S. Officials were lively and excited somewhat yesterday over a seizure made in the District. It seems that during the afternoon they received the mysterious information that a call and examination of the premeses No. 13 Pittsburgh Diamond, would perhaps reveal something of interest. They were not dilatory in putting the suggestion into practical effect and in a short time, the detectives "dropped in" suddenly at the place indicated—the extensive wholesale and retail liquor and grocery house of Daniel Haworth. They made known the object of their call briefly and without any more ado, proceeded to thoroughly inspect the premises. Everything on the first floor appeared in proper shape and fair. On the second floor, however, they found a suspicious article—a quantity of juniper juice, all ready for use, together with olive oil and other drugs, the use of which was obvious. Proceeding higher up to the third and last story, they found there had been expected, a rectifying establishment on a small scale. There was a large stove, boiler, pans, &c., all in good order and apparently having been in use, within a few days.

The officers upon discovering this state of affairs at once took Mr. Haworth into custody and brought him up before U. S. Commissioner Gamble, when an information was made against him for defrauding the government.

The accused after consultation with his counsel, waived a hearing in the case and gave bail in the sum of $5,000 for Court.

This morning an U. S. storekeeper will take charge of the store and "take stock." By the terms of the law the goods of the defendant are forfeited to the Government if the offence is proven against him, and he is further liable to fine and imprisonment. There is said to be about $20,000 worth of stock in the store.

In justice to Mr. Haworth it is but proper to note that he says the machinery found on his premises was used two years ago when he was regularly and legally engaged in the business of rectifying. The case will be fully investigated at Court and till then the allegations made must of necessity lack legal proof.

Sixth Ward School Board—The Bounty Fund.

A meeting of the Sixth ward School Board was held last evening, all members being present.

The usual routine of business was transacted and among other things the question of the danger in the Second street School house was discussed. It was stated that large stones frequently fall from the hill and tumble into the building through the windows and endangering the children. The visiting committee was instructed to see what precautions could be taken in the matter.

Mr. Morrow presented the bond of the Treasurer elect for $10,000, which was approved.

Mr. Case moved the publication of the report of the Committee on the bounty fund.

Mr. Morrow moved to amend, that in the publication one paragraph not, perhaps, strictly pertaining to the bounty fund be omitted in the publication.

Considerable discussion took place on the question, during which Mr. Case accepted the amendment.

Mr. Hamilton opposed the publication, because another committee had been appointed, and for other reasons, one being that the answers of certain former members of the Board to interrogatories of the Committee were included in the report.

Other members of the board were in favor of the publication of the report, but not until the outside committee now appointed should report.

Mr. Case called attention to the fact that the letters of the gentlemen referred to were not included in the report, but simple mention was made of the fact that they state that during the time of their membership in the board they never heard of a bounty balance being in the hands of the Treasurer, and that they never knew of any audit or exhibit of the financial affairs of the board.

Finally, after much discussion and at the suggestion of the President, the motion to publish now was withdrawn, and another motion made that the report be published with the report of the other committee when made, which was adopted.

Adjourned.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

An Unfortunate Prisoner's Troubles Thicken—He is Held for Passing Counterfeit Money—And Now is Alleged to be a Murderer.

Among the unfortunate prisoners for whom Warden Scandrett is now providing is one Michael Hartzel, who has become an individual of peculiar interest to the officers of the law. Some time ago he was arrested on a charge of passing and dealing in counterfeit money. He had a partner in the business, Charles Fredericks, who was recently convicted in the United States Court and sent to the Penitentiary for a term of five years. Michael's case, however, was held over until the next May term of Court. Being unable to procure bail he was kept in jail, but his friends have been making some efforts in his behalf, and there was a probability that the security would be forthcoming.

Yesterday, however, events took a new turn which settles Michael's position in that direction for a time, at least. District Attorney Swoope received a dispatch from authorities in Luzerne County, asking him not to take any bail for Hartzell, as he was wanted at that place to answer a charge of murder preferred against him.

It appears from information received, that on the Fifth of June, 1870, a boy named Yoke was shot and killed in Schuylkill Co., and then robbed of $500. He was carrying the money to his father, when intercepted and thus murdered.

It is alleged that the homicide and robbery was committed by Hartzell and another man; that the authorities have traced the matter to Hartzell particularly, and that the evidence is conclusive.

Michael's prospects for an extended imprisonment, if nothing more disagreeable, are decidedly encouraging.

The Tribune's Washington special says: If Congress is not in session at the time the San Domingo Commission reaches Washington, a special executive session of the Senate will be called by the President to act upon the treaty of annexation. From present prospects Congress will not adjourn before the Commissioners arrive, and if so a discussion of the annexation project will be an additional cause for a prolonged session.

INFLUX OF CHINESE LABORERS.

The labor question will soon be settled, as two companies of Chinese have arrived here seeking work, one from China and the other from Tahiti.

Both Conventions will be held at the Excelsior club rooms.

The funeral of the late Colored State Senator Isaiah L. Lyons of Virginia took place yesterday afternoon at Williamsburg. The body was taken to the Union Cemetery where it was interred with masonic honors.

REDUCTION IN RAILROAD FREIGHTS.
